JURORS SWORN AND LOCKED UP

MARQUETTE, MICH., MAY 26.—A suit involving allegations of drunkenness on the part of former president of the United States will be heard here beginning tomorrow by a jury composed of four miners, three teamsters, two farmers, one blacksmith, one locomotive fireman and one woodsman.

The plaintiff, Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who is suing George A. Newett, an Ishmehing newspaper publisher, for $10,000 damages, because of an editorial charging him with drunkenness probably will be the first witness tomorrow.

The jury completed at 11 o'clock tonight, is composed of:
Joseph Robear, teamster.
Thomas Pryor, locomotive fireman.
Thomas Howard, farmer.
Robert Bruce, lumberman.
William H. Matthews, miner.
William F. Henderson, teamster.
John Frederickson, miner.
William Garrow, miner.
Andrew J. Joneson, miner.
John A. Johnson, farmer.
William Sharp, teamster.
Gus Polcen, blacksmith.

Orders Jurors Locked Up.
As soon as the jury had been sworn, Judge Richard Flanagan ordered the jurors locked up and left the confinement until a verdict is rendered in court.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said the court, "until you have rendered a verdict in this case will be kept in close confinement so that you will be protected from any possible influence other than the testimony which you will hear in the court room. I have decided on this to see that you are not approached by outsiders. If anyone attempts to talk to you about this case, I want you to report to the court, if possible giving their names. I wish to caution against coming to any final conclusions in your own minds as to the merits of this case until you are instructed to deliberate on a verdict. Don't talk among yourselves about it."

"You may write to your families but no letters will be delivered to you, unless you agree that they may first be opened by the court."

Two bailiffs were then sworn by the clerk to keep watch over the jurors and not to allow them to communicate with anyone, including the bailiffs except by permission of the court.

Court then adjourned until tomorrow at 9 o'clock.

Col. Roosevelt was present through out the night session which did not conclude until 11 o'clock.

The defendant Newett, worn out after the afternoon session was not present. As during the afternoon, the court room was comfortably filled and many of the would-be spectators were unable to obtain entrance.

In order to hasten the libel suit of Theodore Roosevelt against Editor George A. Newett, which went to trial here today, a night session was held with the purpose of completing a jury.

At the afternoon session ten veniremen were passed for cause and there are but four peremptory challenges allowed each side two of them are certain to be sworn in as jurors.

The arrival of Col. Roosevelt accompanied by Clifford Pinchot, Truman H. Newberry, James R. Garfield, Jacob A. Riley and others, caused scarcely a ripple on the plain surface of this little city. The party arrived early and only a few persons were at the train.

Given No Demonstration.
The distinguished plaintiff entered the court room swiftly and there was a craning of necks for a moment to see him, but there was no demonstration and presently the spectators had eyes only for the veniremen examined.

George A. Newett, the defendant whose paper the Iron Ore of Ishmehing, Mich., alleged that Colonel Roosevelt "got drunk and that not infrequently" sat at a table with his attorneys, William Baldwin of Ishmehing and Horace Andrews of Cleveland. He appeared exhausted from his recent serious illness and sat much of the time with his eyes closed. The former president was one of a number occupying seats within the railing and by his side during most of the afternoon sat Mr. Garfield, Myron Sherwood, a local lawyer and mine owner, a casual visitor at the trial, by chance occupied a seat on Col. Roosevelt's left, but they found time to whisper to each other which seemed to be of a jocular and pleasing nature, the former president smiling and Sherwood chucking off a laugh with difficulty.

The spectators only comfortably filled the room as the entrance was

WILL INVESTIGATE LONG BEACH DISASTER

CITY OFFICIALS BUSY PREPARING

Thursday—Many Witnesses Will Testify.

LONG BEACH, CALIF., MAY 26.—Relief measures and preparations for investigating for the placing the blame for the Long Beach pier disaster last Saturday in which two score lives were lost and about 200 persons were injured, occupied the time of city officials today.

A coroner's jury inspected the scene and arranged to begin taking testimony Thursday. District Attorney Fredericks of Los Angeles county will co-operate with the coroner's jury and many witnesses will be provided by the British empire committee which had charge of the celebration interrupted by the tragedy. Chief of Police Austin today forbade the showing of moving pictures of the disaster.

VOLTAIR TO SAFETY IN BLAZING BIPLANE

Coolness and Makes Successful Landing.

Salisbury, England, May 26.—Voltaire, a biplane, of the type known as a "Voltaire," reached the ground in safety and stepped from the machine just as an explosion of the gasoline tank wrecked it.

The aeroplane was in early flight over the outskirts of the town, when suddenly the carburetor took fire. Breaking the line valve the aviator shut off the gasoline and started a steep volplane.

The rush of air fanned the flames, and to those who witnessed the incident it seemed as if the men in the machine had a slender chance for life. Tongues of fire swept under the passenger seat and flames pulsed while the aeroplane dropped in its swift descent. Pizey held the machine in a firm grip although the flames scorched his hands, and succeeded in making a splendid landing.

barred after all seats had been taken.

During the day Judge Flanagan, who presided, received a telegram from Minneapolis as follows:

"Don't let this sensational trial continue until I have arrived."

It was signed "Jacob Miles." Judge Flanagan turned the message over to Frank Tyre, who was one of Colonel Roosevelt's guards while president and who is here as a witness. Tyre notified the chief of police of Minneapolis, who wired back that Miles was insane and had been arrested.

Examine Veniremen.
James H. Pound of Detroit questioned veniremen for the plaintiff. His associate attorneys are William H. VanBenschoten of New York and W. S. Hill of Marquette.

The Detroit lawyer made it a point to ask possible jurors as to their acquaintance with the principals in the defendant's legal camp and about their acquaintance with H. O. Young. Mr. Young was elected to congress from the Marquette district as a Republican, but the Progressive candidate McDonald set up a claim in the house that he had a moral right to the election as a large number of persons who wished to vote for him had innocently used erroneously printed ballots. Before a decision was reached at Washington, Young resigned. Counsel for the plaintiff are interested in reports that remarks made by Young really inspired Newett to write the alleged libelous article.

Opposing counsel worded the same inquiry differently when asking if a venireman would be prejudiced against either party to the suit.

"Would the fact that the defendant is a neighbor and a citizen of this community while the plaintiff is a resident of a distant state prejudice you against the plaintiff?" was the way in which Mr. Pound put it.

"Would the fact that one party to this suit is a former president of the United States while the other is a mere citizen cause you to give more weight to the statements of one side than to the other?"

All five veniremen were dismissed for cause, two because they failed to comprehend simple questions asked them.

One of them said he could render a fair decision "regardless of the evidence" whereas a titter went round the room.

Bad Case of Stage Fright.
The other seemed stricken dumb, an apparent victim of stage fright.

He was a large, blonde man with a drooping mustache and hair reached high. His lips moved sometimes, but the words would not come. To give him time to recover, Judge Flanagan deferred the examination until others had set an example but after an hour he was still unable to articulate and was excused. He left the building and went to his boarding house and after court took a recess crowds passing it on their way home observed him talking through a window to friends.

PROFITS OF LARGE CONCERNS

CHICAGO, MAY 26.—Moral conditions in the stock yards quarter of Chicago were considered in a session of the legislative vice-committee today. Louis Swift, president of the packing firm of Swift & Co., and representatives of Armour & Co., and Morris and Co., testified concerning the wages and surroundings of the thousands of foreign girls and women "back of the yards" said to be the largest foreign settlement on this continent.

Mr. Swift testified that wages paid the women employees of the packing houses were fair. Other witnesses said that the foreign women in the "yards" were temperately different from American girls and that the question of morality or immorality was a thing they settled for themselves.

The average wage of the 700 women employees of Swift and Co., is $10.50 a week according to Mr. Swift.

C. L. Charles, assistant superintendent for Morris and Co., said that the girls' wages were low because the girls were unskilled for much money on welfare work, he said, but it was hard to reach the foreign girls.

Maxwell Edgar, president of the Illinois Tax Reform League, presented testimony figures purporting to show the net profits of large concerns here. He said the figures were obtained from former secretary of the treasury MacVeagh. Some of the figures introduced by Mr. Edgar follow:

Marshall Field and Co., 1909, net profit $4,643, 1910, net profit $4,358,488. 1910, net profit $4,419,427.

Sears Roebuck and Co., 1909, net profit $6,939,794; 1910, net profit $6,966,291.

Armour and Co., 1909 net profit $4,358,488. 1910, net profit $863,266.

Professor Graham Taylor, head of "Chicago commons", a social settlement worker, speaking before the commission by request surprised the legislative body by accusing it of being "spectacular, hysterical and sensational."

Professor Taylor was provided with the report of the Rockefeller bureau on social hygiene and read statistics to prove that but 12 percent of the vice can be connected with low wages.

Senator Beall of the vice commission replying to Professor Taylor accused him of being a high brow.

"You high brow have got away from the question, professor," he said. "We know we are low brow, but we know a thing or two. How can a poor girl with $3.50 a week have as good a chance to be pure as one with $7.50?"

UNPREPARED FOR WAR.

New Haven, Conn., May 26.—Former President Taft in his concluding lecture at Yale today on "some questions of modern government," declared the United States was ludicrously unprepared for war and criticized congress for failure to provide for an adequate army and navy. Continuing he said:

"Much of the literature written about what would happen in the event of an attack by the Japanese, supposes they could do a lot of impossible things and in the meantime we would be doing nothing, but we must remember that in the past we have had great luck and it might not continue."

DESTROY "PATENT MONOPOLY"

Washington, May 26.—The so-called "Patent monopoly" which threatened to prevent cut rates by retailers in all patented articles on the market was destroyed today by decision of the supreme court of the United States. The court held that owners of patents are not given the right by the patent law to control the price at which retailers must sell to consumers. The decision in words applied only to a nerve tonic for which a patent has been issued, but will control all patented articles, sold under restrictions not to sell at cut rates.

POPE ENJOYS SUNSHINE.

Rome, May 26.—For the first time since his illness the pope enjoyed the sunshine today in the vatican gardens, where he remained for half an hour. The vatican employees learning that the pope had left his apartments hastened to render him homage.

SOCIETY CHARTERED

Springfield, Ill., May 26.—Jewish National Workers alliance a fraternal insurance society, was chartered today by the state superintendent of insurance to do business in Illinois. The location in this state is in Chicago.

EXPERTS WITH POISON FIGHT GRASSHOPPERS

PESTS HAVE DEVASTATED NORTH-EASTERN NEW MEXICO

Enormous Column is Reported Denuding the Land of Grass and All Kinds of Foliage—Stock Left in Starving Condition.

Amarillo, Texas, May 26.—Traveling northeast, a column of grasshoppers five miles wide and eighteen miles long is reported in northeastern New Mexico today. The appearance of smaller bodies of grasshoppers in sections of western Texas have caused fear of a general grasshopper pest in the southwest.

The New Mexico column today is between Elida and Texline. It is reported they are entirely denuding the land of grass and all kinds of foliage. Stock, especially sheep, have been left in starving condition for lack of pasturage after the grasshoppers passed.

Government, state and railroad experts have combined to fight the grasshoppers with poison.

THREE AMERICANS WIN IN TOURNAMENT AT ST. ANDREWS

Survive First Round of Amateur Golf Tournament—Former Champion is Defeated.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 26.—Three Americans survived the first round of the golf tournament for the amateur championship played here today. Hendrick Schmidt of Worcester, Mass., defeated D. Stoner Crowther, a strong English player, by four up and three to play.

Campbell D. White of San Francisco and Harold Webber of Toledo, O., who drew byes in the first round tomorrow will meet Carmichael Dickinson of Monmouth and Shepard of Healy, both ordinary players whom the Americans are thought capable of defeating.

Findley S. Douglas, C. W. Inslee and Frederick Roosevelt Sewell, the other American players competing today were beaten.

John Ball of the Royal Liverpool club, amateur champion who has held the title winner eight times, was beaten by one hole by a comparatively little-known player named Pegler. Ball recently was hurt in a motorcycle accident.

MISS PANKHURST WILL SERVE ANOTHER PERIOD OF SENTENCE

Declares She Will Continue Hunger Strike Until She Dies or Women Get Vote.

London, May 26.—Miss Emiline Pankhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes is again in Holloway jail. She was re-arrested today, having in the opinion of the authorities sufficiently recovered her health to warrant her serving another period of her sentence of three years imprisonment.

Mrs. Pankhurst, though evidently not stricken when arraigned at the Bow street police court, declared vehemently that she would continue her hunger strike until dead or the government gave women the vote.

When the gates of Holloway jail opened to receive her, a score of militants tried to rush the prison, and the officers had difficulty in preventing them from entering with their leader.

For a long period they remained outside shouting.

"We will keep on fighting until we win."

GOMPERTS SUFFERS RELAPSE.

Washington, May 26.—News was received here today that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor who has been a magnetic figure at Atlantic City had suffered a relapse.

Members of the family and the family physician arranged to leave for Atlantic City tomorrow.

Said to be Improving.
Atlantic City, N. J., May 26.—At a sanitarium here where Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is a patient, it was denied tonight that Mr. Gompers had suffered a relapse. It was stated that he is suffering from a nervous breakdown and the authorities at the sanitarium declared that the labor leader has improved in health since coming to the seashore.

POLITICS ALLEGED CAUSE.

Springfield, Ill., May 26.—Attorney Edgar Sampson appointed to inquire into charges against States' Attorney Henry M. Phipps of Wash county today recommended that Phipps be suspended from the roll of practitioners before the supreme court for three months.

Charges were filed against Phipps declaring he had misappropriated money, and his disbarment was sought. The reports of Attorney Sampson declares the politics had much to do with the filing of the charges.

CHARGED WITH WIFE MURDER

St. Paul, Minn., May 26.—James Black, a negro porter was arrested here late today, charged with murdering his wife, who died from poisoning at her home here April 15th.

A letter was received by the police department here from the chief of police at Springfield, Ill., saying that he held a warrant for Black who is accused of having attempted to kill a former wife in that city in 1910. It is claimed that at Springfield he was known as Ben Barker.

FREE SUGAR FIGHT CAUSE

Statement Issued as Results of Unusual Efforts Made Against Free Raw Wool and Free Sugar

DETERMINE UPON NO CHANGE

WASHINGTON, MAY 26.—President Wilson stirred congressional circles to day with an emphatic statement denouncing the "industrious" and "insidious" lobby in Washington attempting to create public sentiment against certain features of the Underwood tariff bill. This was accepted at the capital as referring to the unusual efforts being made against against free raw wool and free sugar.

While the president was declaring in his opinion that public should be relieved from "the intolerable burden" senators and representatives were viewing on every hand the evidences of the lobbyists which upset them, and significance was attached to a statement made by Senator Simmons chairman of the finance committee which now has the tariff bill in hand that, in his opinion the lobbyists were not making any headway.

The president's declaration that the lobbyists were so thick "that one could not throw a brick without hitting one" revived interest in the two bills recently introduced in the house and senate to regulate lobbying on pending legislation.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa, and Representative C. B. Smith of New York have declared their intention to press the bills they have introduced to restrict the work of lobbyists, require their registration and that they be licensed to appear before any committee or to carry on a campaign for or against proposed legislation. Heavy penalties would be imposed for violations.

Democratic leaders were almost unanimous in support of the president's statement maintaining that they were able to handle the important pending tariff legislation and that sugar and wool would be thoroughly considered and discussed by the finance committee and Democratic caucus before it is reported. No change of policy relating to either schedule has yet been determined, however, it is emphatically declared by the members of the committee.

Position is Appointive.
President Wilson to day withdrew the nomination of Joseph F. Davies of Wisconsin to be commissioner of corporations. It was brought to the president's attention that the position was an appointive one and did not have to have confirmation of the senate.

Several senators announced their intention of opposing Mr. Davies if he did not resign his place as secretary of the Democratic national committee. The president is now expected to announce the appointment.

IDENTIFIED DRAFTS.

Chicago, May 26.—Taking the stand as the final witness in the government's prosecution of L. N. Seaman and M. C. Jocelyn, former cashier and assistant cashier respectively of the Elgin, Ill., national bank, on charges of misusing funds of the bank, Charles A. Davis, a book keeper identified three worthless drafts.

The government charges that Seaman knew the drafts were not good at the time he ordered them paid.

OFFICIALS SUBPOENAED.

Chicago, May 26.—Officials of the Chicago Federation of Labor were subpoenaed to day to appear before the lower house of the state legislature at Springfield tomorrow. They will be asked to explain a resolution recently adopted asserting that there had been a conspiracy in the legislature to defeat the initiative and referendum bill.

TO URGUE 1914 CONVENTION.

Washington, May 26.—Senator Cummins declared that the progressive republican leaders will urge the national committee when it meets sixty days after adjournment of congress to postpone the convention until next year as was tentatively agreed as a result of the national executive committee meeting here last Saturday.

MATTY MICE DEFEATED.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 26.—Today Brannigan of Pittsburgh checked Matty Mice's march toward the featherweight championship tonight when he defeated the Racine boxer in a fast and furious ten round bout.

To cents went the limit and Brannigan earned the verdict because of the rushing battle. Both were strong at the finish.

PASS JURY REFORM BILL.

Trenton, N. J., May 26.—The chancellor-sheriff jury reform bill which has the approval of President Woodrow Wilson, passed the senate tonight by a strict party vote. The measure passed the lower branch of the general assembly two weeks ago.

PELKEY EXONERATED BY CORONER'S JURY

ACQUITS ALL PRINCIPALS IN THE STAGING OF THE CONTEST

Authorities Not Pleased With Verdict and Criminal Proceedings May be Continued—Protest is Made That Jury is Made Up of Men Friendly to Burns.

CALGARY, ALBERTA, MAY 26.—A coroner's jury tonight exonerated Arthur Pelkey, the prize fighter whose blow killed Luther McCarty in the prize ring here Saturday.

The jury deliberated only a short time before returning the verdict which also exonerated all principals in the staging of the contest. The authorities were not pleased with the verdict and it was intimated the criminal proceedings would be continued, although this could not be confirmed at midnight.

Those who have been handling the legal end of the case have protested that the jury was made up principally of men who are friendly to Burns.

Referee Edward Smith, Tommy Burns, William McCarty, McCarty's manager, together with a dozen attendants and newspapermen, appeared as witnesses at the hearing. Dr. H. H. Mosser, who conducted the autopsy, testified a blow on the edge of the right jaw, the dislocation of the fourth cervical vertebra, the hemorrhage of the brain that followed and the forcing of blood into the spinal canal were the causes of McCarty's death. He was on the stand for more than an hour and was questioned closely by counsel for Pelkey and Burns.

Crown Prosecutor Shaw questioned Burns, who acknowledged he prompted the fight and McCarty and Pelkey were to receive $5,000 each, according to the agreement.

Referee Smith declared that not one hard blow was struck during the battle. Manager McCarty asserted on the witness stand that McCarty was in good condition when he entered the ring. He said that in his opinion death was not caused by the blow.

McCarty's body was shipped to his home in Ohio. McCarty had intended to accompany the body but was held by the authorities.

The date of his preliminary hearing probably will be fixed tomorrow.

The unexpected action of the jury caused considerable speculation as to the next probable move to be taken by the authorities.

DISCUSS TERMS OF DECREE DISSOLVING SOFT COAL "TRUSTS"

Attorney General McReynolds and Chairman of Board of Hocking Valley R. R. Hold Conference.

Washington, May 26.—The terms of the decrees in the dissolving of the so-called soft coal trust were discussed at a conference here today between Attorney General McReynolds and Frank Trumbull, chairman of the board of the Hocking Valley railway and Lawrence Maxwell, counsel for the road. The results were not made public.

The government has interpreted the decision of the United States court at Cincinnati as ordering the Hocking Valley railway to relinquish control of the Sunday Creek Coal company, mining an enormous amount of soft coal, and also as ordering the Chesapeake & Ohio or the New York Central to surrender control of the Kanawha & Michigan, the Toledo & Ohio Central and the Hocking Valley railroads.

AUTO OVERTURNS.

Brandon, Man., May 26.—George Hadley, proprietor of a hotel here and Leo Biseby also of this city were killed and J. D. Kirkland was probably fatally injured when their automobile overturned between here and Rapid City today. Reginald Walters was seriously injured and four women in the party, including Hadley's wife and daughter, were slightly injured. Hadley, it is said, was one of the wealthiest men in western Canada.

WIDOW GETS DAMAGES.

Washington, May 26.—The Illinois law of 1901 requiring fences to be constructed around holes for elevator shafts in building in construction was declared valid to day by the supreme court which affirmed the decision of the Illinois courts awarding the widow of Charles E. Claffy of Chicago $10,000 damages from the Chicago Dock & Canal company for the death of her husband.

BANKER PAYS FINE.

Wingfield, Kan., May 26.—Grant Stafford, a banker today paid fines of $50 and costs for stealing cigars. It was announced that he had decided not to undergo the ordeal involved in carrying the case to the district court.

STAFFORD STILL MAINTAINS HIS INNOCENCE.

Stafford still maintains his innocence.

SUFFERS PARALYTIC STROKE.

Joliet, Ill., May 26.—Patrick Barry, former campaign manager of Shelby M. Cullom and private secretary to the latter when the governor and for the last fifty years employed at the penitentiary here is seriously ill following a third paralytic stroke.

WILL NOT CONTEST CASE.

Springfield, Ill., May 26.—Attorneys for Thomas D. Vredenburg, against whom a bill for divorce has been filed, stated today that Mr. Vredenburg would not contest the case. The question of alimony will be settled out of court.

TREASURER TESTIFIES

Declares Atteaux Was Instructed to Confer With Various Mill Agents About Labor Trouble

CHECKS RECORDED ON BOOKS

BOSTON, MAY 26.—Indications that the defense would rely upon its ability to prove that Frederick E. Atteaux, who is admitted to have received checks from the American Woolen company, was employed by the company in a legitimate capacity, developed at the dynamite conspiracy trial today.

The government alleges that money paid to Atteaux upon the authority of the president of the American Woolen company, William Wood was in furtherance of a conspiracy entered into by Wood, Atteaux, Dennis J. Collins, John J. Breen and Ernest W. Pitman to cast suspicion upon the textile strikers at Lawrence by planting dynamite on premises occupied by them.

William Dweley, treasurer of the woolen company, who was summoned as a witness for the prosecution, testified under cross examination that Atteaux was instructed to visit various places where the company's factories are located and confer with the mill agents regarding labor troubles.

Payments Recorded.

The payments to Atteaux in two checks totaling $2,600 were entered, according to the witness, in the manner that all legitimate disbursements were recorded on the company's books. Testimony that Atteaux had performed some similar services for the company in 1902, during the labor troubles and that he had been paid in precisely the same manner, was given by C. C. Wiggins, vice-president and comptroller of the Woolen company. For this work the witness said, Atteaux received $1,000. The voucher for this payment was introduced and shown to be identical in form with the voucher for Atteaux's account in 1912. The witness explained that any expenditure authorized by President Wood would be paid without question. Attorney William M. Butler was called and he denied that he had been at the company's offices on that day or had seen Wood and Atteaux together. He also denied that he had told the prosecutor to the contrary.

INMATES OF RESORTS

LEAVE ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., May 26.—It was estimated by officials that 300 inmates of the resorts boarded trains today for points in Wisconsin and Illinois.

A striking incident of the passing of the old underworld was the court ultimatum sent to the Woman's Welfare league which had offered to provide for the inmates until they had received employment.

"We do not need your assistance and are not interested in your campaign," the league was told by the representative of the women.

"HAL" CHASE MARRIES.

Jersey City, N. J., May 26.—A marriage license was issued here today to Harold Harris Chase and Miss Anna Cherug of New York. Chase is best known to the baseball fans of the country as "Hal," first baseman of the New York league team.

Chase and Miss Cherug applied for the license this morning but as he could not produce a certificate copy of the decree of divorce from his first wife the license clerk refused to issue it.

POINTS TO REASONS FOR DROP IN CATTLE PRICES

J. T. Alexander Thinks Abundant Crops and Mild Winter Caused Heavier Weight Steers—Cattlemen Watch Tariff Questions.

John T. Alexander of Chicago is spending a few days with Morgan County friends. Last week he was in Indiana and Saturday delivered an address at Purdue University setting forth his ideas on livestock conditions. In addition to classes from the University members of the Indiana Cattle Feeders association were present.

For a number of years Mr. Alexander has gone down to the university in the fall to set the values on a bunch of cattle and again in the spring to fix prices in order that calculations may be made on the growth shown. Last November the university bought 70 head of cattle averaging 850 and Mr. Alexander put a price of $6.50 on them. Saturday the cattle averaged 1250 in weight and the price he estimated on them was $8.31. They were of a fair grade of short horns and made a good growth in the time mentioned.

Mr. Alexander is much interested in the tariff question as affecting the cattle market. All members of the livestock exchange are interested in the same subject just now and are opposed to tariff changes which will put a tax on live cattle and admit dressed beef free. This would be a severe blow to the cattle feeding industry. For years Mr. Alexander has made a study of the livestock business and so his views just now will be of special interest. They are set forth as follows:

Fat cattle trade has been in a very unsatisfactory condition these many weeks past and it has failed to measure up to feeders' expectations and has jolted practically every mid-winter forecast ventured. Dry lot steers have been thrown into the market in numbers far in excess of what any element of the trade had looked for and to make matters worse it has been a run of finished steers, yielding the maximum quantity of beef and while we have been talking glibly of beef shortage, the fact remains that, temporarily at least, beef and good beef are abundant. Unfortunately the season has produced a crop in which finished steers have predominated, and but few cattle, bulls and stockers have been in a big minority.

Under normal conditions a one day run of 20,000 cattle at Chicago would not mean excess but when eighty per cent is steers, weighing 1150 to 1500 lbs., it becomes a case of too much steer beef.

A full corn crib, abundance of roughage and a winter that has had few equals for putting on weight, have been the responsible factors.

Cattle Heavier.
Cattle reaching Chicago, have been weighing around 100 lb. more than a year ago and that excess of weight has had much to do with the price smashing stunt. It was a condition impossible to avoid and we must accept results philosophically according to the cattleman's habit, but what has happened is everybody's secret. It is the future that concerns us and the trite saying that the market future is involved in the supply and demand proposition is excusable.

Feed abundance always did mean liberal cattle supply and probably always will. The present crop of winter made dry lot cattle cannot run indefinitely but summer beef making conditions are favorable and that fact is not to be ignored. Probably feeders are handling more yearlings and young cattle than ever before but the market can get along with very few heavy bullocks. We are hopeful that the bottom of the slump has been uncovered, but predictions of any material advance in prices are warranted neither by the supply prospects nor industrial and commercial conditions. Early next month dry lot cattle will show up less numerous, but distillery fed beef has been held back to nurse the market and trade opinion which it must be admitted is not always infallible is anything but bullish in tone.

Light Supply From West.

There is one supply certainty regarding the summer market; grass cattle from beyond the Missouri river will be less numerous than for many years past.

The Dakotas, Wyoming and Montana gathered their two year old cattle last fall and have been putting in nothing but Mexicans and southern trash recently while the movement of Kansas and Oklahoma pastures this spring was the lightest in many years. This ought to help the corn belt feeder. A few days ago the Chicago Livestock Exchange filed a protest at Washington against disturbance of the present tariff parity between livestock and dressed meats.

The proposed tariff bill provides changes by which raw material (livestock) would be subject to substantial tax while the finished products thereof would be admitted to this country free of duty. This is obviously inequitable. In my opinion corn belt feeders are entitled to free raw material if the existing parity is to be disturbed and the present scarcity of young cattle renders the proposed ten per cent tax a little short of iniquitous when it is considered that congress proposes to admit dressed meats free.

MISS OLDFIELD SINGS.
On Sunday afternoon in the chapel of the School for the Blind a very interesting and beautiful program was given by Miss Oldfield of the Conservatory of Music. The audience was comprised of pupils and faculty of the school and a large number of friends from the city. Miss Oldfield was in good voice and her music was appreciated. Miss Jerold and Miss Jensen were the accompanists.

CALCULATING INTEREST.

Formulas Which Involve Fractions in No Part of the Figuring.

In a recent issue you quote a formula for calculating interest on any number of days at 6 per cent. If you will grant me the space I will submit several formulas absolutely correct and involving fractions in no part of the operation.

Before stating them I will say if the principal consists of dollars alone the first two right hand figures must be pointed off for cents. If, however, it consists of dollars and cents, then the first four on the right must be cut off.

To those who are not quick in finding the number of days between two given dates, I would suggest the following method, simple and correct: Example, Find the number of days from March 27 to July 24, inclusive:

6 more days in March.
30 days in April.
31 days in May.
30 days in June.
24 days in July.
120 days, answer.

The above formulas will be found very handy and time saving to one whose business calculations require the use of different rates—Sherman (Tex.) Cor. Dallas News.

BLOOD POISONING.

It is Invariably Caused by Bacterial Infection of a Wound.

The bete noire of domestic surgery is blood poisoning. Blood poisoning, or septicemia, as surgeons call it, is not caused by colored stockings, dyes, chemicals or anything of that kind. It is invariably caused by bacterial infection of a wound. The wound may be a mere pin prick or it may be a large wound. It makes no difference what implement produces the wound. The question is, Was the implement covered with germs? No matter what metal it may be made of, if the implement is clean—i. e., surgically sterile—and if the skin about the wounded part is clean, there is no likelihood of blood poisoning following.

When blood poisoning does occur it announces itself by characteristic signs. First there is general chilliness, with perhaps light headache and general aches such as one feels with any oncoming fever. The wounded part swells, burns, becomes throbbingly painful and stops discharging for a time. Then within a few hours red streaks may be seen extending up the extremity to the glands in bend of elbow, knee, groin or armpit. Such signs are always serious, though generally disappearing upon the institution of proper surgical treatment.

For general purposes where an antiseptic is desired one of the safest and most satisfactory to use is ordinary tincture of iodine—not the colorless iodine, which isn't iodine at all, but the brown tincture. A few drops or a teaspoonful of this in a pint or less of water makes a valuable gargle, mouth wash or a wash for irrigating a wound. Dr. William Brady in the New York World.

How He Was Paid.

An office boy employed by a firm of shipbuilders, in answer to the query as to his occupation, stated that he was "an office yard and my odd jobs, etc." Doubtless the et cetera was eloquent with meaning to the youth himself, and he may congratulate himself on having come as near to the truth as an engineering apprentice to the same firm, who contrived to crowd into the limited space provided for the reply to the question as to how he was paid, "Salary or wages," the illuminating answer, "In envelope, through little window."—Glasgow News.

Made the Most of It.

The American love of the superlative has an amusing illustration in Samuel M. Crothers' book "Humanly Speaking." Dr. Crothers had been traveling. He finally reached a seemingly sleepy little place where he thought to find only contented mediocrity. But when he sat down to write a letter on the hotel stationery he was confronted with the statement, "This is the biggest little hotel in the state!"

A Losing Game.

"Your wife doesn't play bridge at all, does she?"
"No. She's stopped entirely."
"What was the cure?"
"She lost $5 to her dearest friend."
"Lost both her money and her friend, eh?"
"Exactly."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Ready Answer.

"Be mine. I cannot live without you."
"Bah," said the heiress. "You have lived without me for years."
"True," retorted the duke, "but the cost of living has got to me at last."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MEETS DEATH IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK.

Lee Fox, Nephew of P. W. Fox of This City Killed in Accident at St. Louis.

As the result of an automobile accident in St. Louis Sunday at noon Lee Fox, nephew of P. W. Fox of this city, was fatally injured, passing away Monday noon.

The accident occurred at the corner of 14th and Olive streets at 12:50 o'clock Sunday, as the result of two automobiles smashing into each other. The automobile in which Fox was riding was knocked clear through a store window. Fred L. Lansbergh, a clerk in the city counselor's office and Harry C. Decker, a salesman were the others who will probably survive.

The deceased is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fox and two brothers, James and Lawrence. The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning and Mr. Fox will go to St. Louis to attend the services.

Kind Words and Praise of Gold for Faithful Sunday School Superintendent—Will Live in Springfield.

As Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rayhill, Jr., are expecting soon to leave Jacksonville for Springfield, where Mr. Rayhill will become superintendent of the china and household furnishings department of Bessmer's big store, their friends in Westminster church gave them a farewell party.

It was a wholly informal company which gathered in the church parlors and spent two hours in a social way. Miss Ruth Hillerby played a number of piano selections which were enjoyed and after refreshments had been served, Rev. Mr. Davis spoke briefly, expressing the sincere regret that the people of Westminster feel in having Mr. and Mrs. Rayhill leave. Both have taken an active interest in the work of the church and for four years Mr. Rayhill has been the devoted and faithful superintendent of the Sunday school, his work resulting in the growth of the school to a large extent.

W. J. Brady was introduced by Mr. Davis and after he had spoken of the crisis which had come in trying to select some one for Mr. Rayhill's place and of the splendid work the retiring superintendent had done he presented him with a purse of golden dollars as a token of the esteem of his fellow church members.

Mr. Rayhill was hardly able to talk for a few moments but a little later feelingly expressed his appreciation for the words spoken and for the substantial token.

Mr. and Mrs. Rayhill will be greatly missed but their friends will find pleasure in the fact that they are to live in a city so near at hand.

Mr. Rayhill has not disposed of his store here and although he is to go to Springfield June 1, will for a time at least continue to operate his store. Later on he may sell and so withdraw entirely from Jacksonville business circles.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. ETNA DOOLEY

Will Leave This Evening to Spend Summer in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Etta Dooley of Spaulding Place was given a happy surprise Monday evening by her neighbors. Mrs. Dooley expects to leave this evening for Los Angeles, Calif., where she will remain until September and the party was a time in which "good-byes" were said. The neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Capps on East State street, everyone taking along a well filled basket and went in a body to the Dooley home. It was needless to say that the surprise was complete. Mrs. Dooley when she sat down to her place at the table was greeted by a beautiful brooch, the gift of her friends, for which she expressed her appreciation of the thoughtfulness and esteem of all. Music was furnished during the evening by Mrs. D. C. Diltz, Miss Flossie Kellogg and Miss Elsie Todd. The time was spent in a delightful social way and every good wish was extended Mrs. Dooley for a happy time in the far west.

The following were present: Mrs. E. A. Schoedsack, Mrs. Henry Capps, Mrs. John Hazel, Mrs. William R. Handline, Mrs. Dennis Hines, Mrs. Phillip Schultz, Sr., Mrs. Phillip Schultz, Jr., Mrs. William Lynn, Mrs. D. C. Diltz, Mrs. Joseph Rodems, Mrs. J. P. Kellogg, Miss Flossie Kellogg, Mrs. T. D. Wilson, Miss Ruth Wilson, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. August Stranberg, Miss Louise Stranberg, Mrs. F. C. Taylor, Mrs. Guy Lynn and Miss Elsie Todd.

MORTUARY

Buck.
Funeral services for John P. Buck were held from the late residence, 1224 Center street, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in charge of Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of the Central Christian church, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of Miss Sandburg, Miss Spires, Rev. Mr. Darsie and W. W. Gillham and the many beautiful flowers were cared for by Mrs. Harry Taylor and Mrs. Kate Hennessey.

Interment was made in Jacksonville cemetery and the bearers were Patrick Hennessey, Harry Taylor, William Thomas, Will Thompson, Ernest Kelley and Albert Wilner.

Miss Mella Steinkruger of Tallula is visiting with her sister, Mrs. William McCarley on South West street.

Smith.
James Smith, father of T. F. Smith of this city, died Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. F. Spires, 1009 Phillips avenue, Springfield. Mr. Smith possessed a rugged constitution and until one week ago was in good health. He had been confined to his bed only a week and death was attributed to senile debility.

Mr. Smith was born in Berkville, Cumberland county, Kentucky, March 21, 1823 and at the time of his death had attained the advanced age of 90 years 2 months and 5 days. In 1824 he came with his parents to Morgan county and Mr. Smith secured his literary education in the schools of that day. His parents settled on a farm in the vicinity of Litchfield and all during his life he followed the occupation of farmer.

He was married September 27, 1850 to Miss Margaret Ann Field of Carthage and they were the parents of the following children: Mrs. Ella Hicks of Ft. Wayne, Ind., Mrs. W. F. Spires of Springfield, Thomas F. Smith of this city, Paris and H. L. Smith of Springfield, who will seven grandchildren survive him. His wife preceded him in death thirteen years ago. When quite a young man Mr. Smith became a member of the Baptist church and always lived a consistent Christian life.

VISITOR FROM CALIFORNIA.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Olds of Pomona, California, are making a brief visit in Jacksonville with their nephew, E. A. Olds, of the Courier. They are on their way east from a visit with New England friends and relatives. The Jacksonville visitor has been a prominent business man on the coast for a number of years and prior to that period was a resident of Denver. E. A. Olds was a member of his household for eleven years and they are naturally enjoying meeting again.

EMERY'S DEVEILED SARDINES

A new way of offering the public the tasty, appetizing, nutritious Sardines--the "before bed nibble," the luncheon bite, the chafing dish treat of people in all walks of life.

These fish are fussier than the fussiest Epicure. Water they inhabit must be absolutely free from pollution of any nature, for they will run like greased lightning from unclean feeding grounds.

The most tempting bait devised will not get them to bite a hook.

They must be caught in nets and traps. Such is nature's cleanliness in connection with Emery's Develed Sardines.

CITY COUNCIL HELD USUAL SESSION MONDAY MORNING

Question of Cinders For Walk Sub-Foundation Will Be Settled at Later Date—Pendleton Co. Will Audit City Books.

At the Monday morning session of the city council the question of using cinders for sidewalk foundations came up for discussion again when a petition was presented by residents of Hooker street asking for authority to lay a walk with cinder foundation. This petition was signed by George Nunes, C. W. Cowdin, P. A. Kaule and R. M. Ferreira. It was received and placed on file and action deferred.

Commissioner Newman was greatly in favor of the petition as he believes that cinders are preferable to stone for the sub-foundation. Commissioner Engel was of the opinion that as the property owner must stand the loss that it would be fair to let him put down a walk on a cinder foundation if he wanted to. Mayor Davis and the other commissioners were willing to entertain the cinder proposition if a petition signed by a goodly number of voters was presented, showing that such foundation provisions are really desired.

A communication from the American Water Works association was read, requesting the council to send a delegate to a convention to be held at Minneapolis in June. Mayor Davis said he would appoint Commissioner Brennan to go at his own expense.

In response to a letter from Morgan Park, Mayor Davis was instructed to write to the representatives from this district protesting against the passage of senate bill 269. This bill provides that no residence district shall be annexed to a city unless the population is one hundred or more.

Commissioner Knollenberg stated that the lowest bid he had received for the audit of the city books was $225 from the Pendleton Audit Co. Commissioner Newman wanted to know if Mr. Pendleton is a certified accountant and thought the law required that an accountant employed must be certified. Commissioner Knollenberg said that was not the law and that Mr. Pendleton was entirely qualified for the work.

City Attorney Thompson reported that a damage suit against the city had been dismissed and that another had been settled for $177.85 after a conference with Commissioners Knollenberg and Newman.

GETTING READY FOR THE COMING CHAUTAUQUA

Conference Held With Superintendent Shaw Shows That Preparations Are Moving Along in Satisfactory Way.

At the Dunlap last night chair members of the executive committee of the chautauqua association and the chairman of the sub-committees met at dinner and held a business session afterward at the call of the chairman, Dr. C. E. Black.

J. H. Shaw, superintendent of the chautauqua was present and various matters relating to the enterprise were considered at length, the conference lasting for three hours. While the program has not been wholly completed it is nearly so and it promises to furnish a splendid array of entertainments. A resolution was passed expressing the hope that the grounds may be outlined that the bridge across the lake will be the main entrance. This will serve among other things to bring the assembly tent nearer the park entrances. All the committee reports were such as to show that the work of preparation is moving along in excellent shape. The men present last night were:

F. J. Andrews, Dr. C. E. Black, J. H. Shaw, Paul Fritchey, T. M. Tomlinson, A. C. Rice, C. A. Rowe, D. T. Hinchliff, R. C. Reynolds, E. P. Brockhouse, Dr. G. H. Kopperl, Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp, L. P. Allcott, B. Gause, W. J. Brady, John Merrihan, W. T. Brown, C. R. Knollenberg, C. S. Hillerby, W. A. Furr, Fletcher Hopper, J. W. Walton.

Still some good seats left at Brown's music store for the Coburn players, May 28th.

Mrs. J. B. Ward and son Clark of Peoria have been called here by the illness of Mrs. Charles Williams on North Main street.

Slander in Pantomime.

An amusing feud of two families in the County Mayo, the Sweeneys and the Caseys, was before the justices at Kiltinagh on summonses, Mr. McGinley, district inspector of constabulary, elucidating its incidents.

One of the Caseys having been ordered to wear spectacles, Sweeney, for ridicule, paraded before their house in a pair of tin goggles. Two Caseys next appeared. One dropped a purse, which the other seized and ran away with. This, said the inspector, was to indicate that a Sweeney had been sent to a reformatory for purse stealing.

Two Sweeneys retaliated in the street by one of them, with dramatic flourish, aiming a wooden gun at the other. This meant, said the inspector, that a Casey, a water bailiff, had been indicted for shooting at a man.—London Mail.

The Value of Accuracy.

We strive so much to know everything that we lose sight of the fact that accuracy is more important than knowledge since knowledge that is misty and fragile is a poor guide. But it is not only that what we know should be true as that the fact that accuracy is one of the most important elements of character. Vague ideas tend to make a weak character since character is only another name for truth. So that in the education of every man and child accuracy should be made a vital part. One of the tests for entrance to the Naval academy is, or was, an addition of a column of figures to ascertain the quantity of carelessness, if any, the applicant has in his character. It should be made an important item in our education to require accuracy.—Ohio State Journal.

Where Sherlock Holmes Lived.

The cattle show was regularly held in Baker street for many years before its removal to the Agricultural hall. Baker street takes its name from Sir Edward Baker, a friend of the Portman who gave his name to Portman square and to whom the land belonged. The street has had its share of famous inhabitants. Bulwer Lytton was born and Mrs. Siddons died there. Pitt lived at its north end, and Henry Grattan, the orator, died there in 1820. And have you noticed how very small a street Baker street is?—London Globe.

Naturally.

"I wonder," said Mrs. Giddy, "why those inquisitive people across the street are always looking into our windows?"

"Maybe," suggested her sharp tongued husband, "it's to find out why you are always looking into theirs."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Keeps His Word.

"Yes, sir," said Jenkins; "Smithers is a man who keeps his word; but, then, he has to."

"How is that?" asked Johnson.

"Because no one will take it."

An Old Firm.

"Who paluted Subbuls' house?"

"He told me the name of the concern. I think he said it was done by Fitz & Startz."—Boston Transcript.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DIE WITHIN ONE DAY

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Martin, Formerly of Jacksonville Succumb to Tuberculosis.

Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock occurred the death of E. S. Martin at the home of his sister in Delevan, twenty-four hours after the death of Mrs. Martin who passed away at the same time Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Earl Stiltz in Chicago. Tuberculosis was the cause of the death of both, who were over 70 years of age. Funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock in the Methodist church at Delevan, in charge of the Methodist and Presbyterian ministers of that place. W. D. Rapp and Miss Grace Rapp, William Wilkinson and A. P. Vasconcellos will attend the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin who left the city last June for Chicago were residents of Jacksonville for over thirty years. At the time of his death Mr. Martin had been a resident of Delevan three weeks, having left Chicago on account of disagreement of the climate with his health.

Epaphroditis S. Martin was born in Ohio and came to this state in 1854. He served honorably in the civil war and was married to Miss Mary A. Kidder of Newark in 1866. For several years Mr. Martin served as postmaster of Fremont, Ohio. Mr. Martin's war service extended from November 15, 1861 to August 15, 1862. He was a member of the eighth Illinois infantry under the command of Gen. R. J. Oglesby. At Shiloh, he received a severe wound to his hand from the effects of which he never fully recovered. In all he carried thirteen bullet wounds received in the service of his country.

The children surviving are: Mrs. Effie Parks, of Kansas City, Miss Mertis Martin and Mrs. Grace Stiltz, of Chicago, also one granddaughter, Florence Parks.

MR. CRABTREE HAS FRACTURED WRIST

E. E. Crabtree had the misfortune Sunday afternoon to fracture the radial bone of his right arm as he was cranking his automobile. Mr. Crabtree was at the country home of John R. Allen and was ready to start for Jacksonville. He gave the starter crank a turn and in some manner it flew back and struck him on the right wrist, the fracture being the result. J. T. King who was with Mr. Crabtree took him to a nearby pump and bathed the injured wrist in cold water and so kept down the swelling to a considerable extent. F. E. Farrell's chauffeur, Ollie Mack, was reached by phone and soon made the trip to the Allen farm accompanied by Nelson McMurphy. Mr. Crabtree was taken speedily to the office of Dr. Bowe where the injured arm was put in splints and it will be necessary to keep it there for five or six weeks.

Still some good seats left at Brown's music store for the Coburn players, May 28th.

Miss Jean Anderson of Abilene, Tex., for several years a teacher in Whipple academy is in Jacksonville for a few days. She is at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Worthington.

CHATTANOOGA GREETES CONFEDERATE VETERANS

The Twenty-Third Annual Reunion Is Now Being Held.

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 26.—Decorated as never before in her history Chattanooga to day threw her gates wide open in welcome to the thousands of arriving Confederate veterans, sons of Confederate veterans, daughters of the Confederacy and other visitors. This is the twenty third annual reunion of the veterans the eighteenth of the sons. Every arriving train to day was loaded with visitors. The veterans are much more feeble than when they were here for their first reunion twenty three years ago. The number has been thinned by death and age has dimmed their eyes, bent their forms and given a snowy appearance to the beards and hair. But something of the old spirit of half a century ago still manifest as the delegations marched from the railway stations to the reunion headquarters, with a band playing "Dixie" at the head of the column and the "Stars and Bars" fluttering in the breeze.

The geographical location of Chattanooga is exceptionally well suited for the reunion. North and south and east and west are the states which rallied to the standards of Lee and Jackson, and in the immediate vicinity were fought the great battles of Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge. Half a dozen trunk lines of railroad enter the city from all directions and scores of special trains are being run for the convenience of veterans and other visitors.

At a cost of a thousand dollars the reunion committee has had all the principal street profusely decorated. Ample provision has been made in the way of rest stations, temporarily hospitals, lunch stands and other arrangements for the convenience and welcome of the visitors. The government's 10,000 tents are erected in Jackson Park, a delightful resort near the business section of the city, and this is called Camp Stewart, in honor of the late Gen. A. P. Stewart. The reunion will be presided over by Gen. Bennett H. Young of Louisville, the commander-in-chief. Tomorrow and Wednesday will be devoted largely to the business of the organization, and Thursday the parade of the old guard in gray will take place.

The custom of appointing young women, generally daughters of Confederate soldiers, to act as sponsors and maids for the several states has so spread that not only the states but nearly all the divisions, brigades and regiments are so represented. Already many of the scores of sponsors and maids have arrived and the social features of the reunion will be notable.

The entertainment programme will be ushered in tomorrow afternoon with a lawn party at Warner Park in honor of the sponsors and attendants. Later in the evening the Daughters of the Confederacy will give a reception in honor of the veterans. Wednesday the sponsors will be entertained at a breakfast at the Golf and Country Club and Wednesday night the Sons of Veterans' ball will be given.

The grand ball of the Confederate veterans, which will bring the entertainment programme to a climax, will take place Thursday night. Commander-in-Chief Young will lead the grand march, accompanied by Miss Kate Daffin, sponsor for the South. After them will come all of the sponsors and maids of honor, each accompanied by a distinguished Confederate veteran.

The detailed programme of events as finally prepared for the opening of the reunion tomorrow is as follows:

10:00 a. m.—Initial sessions of the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans called to order by General Bennett H. Young. Invocation, Chaplain-General J. W. Bachman. Song, Mrs. W. H. Pryor. Addresses of welcome by Governor Ben W. Hooper, speaking for the State of Tennessee, and W. E. Brock, in behalf of the Chattanooga Reunion Association. 12:00 noon—Services of the Memorial associations at the Auditorium. 2:30 p. m.—United Confederate Veterans' business meeting resumed. Meetings of Sons of Veterans and Confederate States Memorial Association.

4:00 p. m.—Start of the Sponsors' parade. 5:00 p. m.—Entertainment of sponsors at Warner Park. 8:00 p. m.—Daughters' reception for veterans at Chamberlain field. 8:00 p. m.—Business sessions of the veterans at Auditorium. 8:00 p. m.—Business session of sons at Chamber of Commerce.

A slight cold in a child or a grown person holds possibilities of the gravest nature. Croup may come on suddenly in the night, bronchitis or pneumonia may develop, and severe catarrhal troubles and consumption are possible results. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound nips a cold at the outset, cures croup quickly, checks a deep-seated racking cough, and heals inflamed membranes. It does not constipate and contains no opiates. Refuse substitutes. For sale by City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

CONSERVATORY NOTES.

Mrs. Genevieve Clark Wilson, who is to have charge of the vocal department of the conservatory next year, expects to be in Jacksonville for a few days early in June, and will sing on baccalaureate Sunday at Westminster church. Her two numbers will be "O Glorious Country" from Horatio Parker's "Horo Novissima" and "In the Time of Roses." She will also sing at the meeting of the alumnae of the academy in Academy hall on Saturday, June 7th.

The Conservatory faculty recital takes place Tuesday evening, May 27th, in Northminster church, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Kritch, Miss Oldfield, Mr. Minger, Miss Jensen and Mrs. Jensen will take part. The public is cordially invited.

QUICK RELIEF FOR RHEUMATISM.

George W. Koon, Lawton, Mich., says: "Dr. Detchon's Relief for Rheumatism has given my wife wonderful benefit for rheumatism. She could not lift hand or foot, had to be lifted for two months. She began to use of the remedy and improved rapidly. On Monday she could not move and on Wednesday she got up, dressed herself and walked out for breakfast." Sold by L. P. Allcott, druggist.

SEEKS TO REDUCE DANGER.

Chicago, Ill., May 26.—The interstate commerce commission today commenced a hearing on the subject of regulations to govern the transportation of explosives. It is the purpose of the commission to formulate new rules with a view to minimize the danger to life and property in the conveyance by railroads of explosives. The need for more stringent regulations than those now in force is generally admitted by both the shippers and the railroads.

A man living at Auburn, New York, had a severe attack of kidney and bladder trouble. Being a working man, not wanting to lose time, nor to run up a heavy doctor's bill, he cured himself completely by using Foley's Kidney Pills. A year later he says: "It is a pleasure to report that the cure was permanent." He has had no return whatever of the pain, backache and burning. His name is J. A. Farmer, and he says: "Of course I recommend Foley's Kidney Pills as a very effective cure for kidney and bladder trouble." For sale by the City Drug Store, J. A. Obermeyer.

HAWAIIAN SCHOOLS.

Japanese pupils now form the most numerous element in the Hawaiian schools, and they are increasing at a more rapid rate than any other race, according to a statement by Governor Walter F. Freer, received at the United States Bureau of Education. The Japanese now have a considerable lead in the school population, with over 31 per cent of the total; the Portuguese follow with a little less than 17 per cent; the Hawaiians come next with 14 per cent; part-Hawaiians comprise 14 per cent; Chinese, 11 per cent; and all other nations or races, 12 per cent.

Governor Freer gives other interesting information about Hawaii's schools. He shows how, after the establishment of the territorial government in 1900, the public schools fared worse and worse until 1907, when, with increasing prosperity for the islands, more ample provision was made for education. Finally, in 1911, a new method of financing the schools was adopted, under which there has been a decided gain in the number of teachers, in salaries, and in general efficiency.

Industrial schools that are partially self-supporting are a feature of the Hawaiian school system. There are three such schools, and in addition, the normal school, the college of agriculture and mechanic arts, two high schools, and 151 schools of elementary grade. A number of the schools maintain city or county governments conducted by the pupils for practice in citizenship and patriotic exercises are emphasized in all the schools.

There are now nearly 30,000 children in the Hawaiian schools, about twice as many as there were at the time the territorial government was established, twelve years ago. The territory last year spent $582,536 for education and the counties themselves $47,799 additional. These figures are exclusive of expenditures for the colleges of Hawaii, which now occupies a permanent site in the suburbs of Honolulu and has graduated its first class.

The Hawaiian schools are up to the American practice in length of term; their school year is 38 weeks. Attendance is compulsory from 6 to 17 years of age, the maximum age having been raised from 15 a year ago. Good attendance records are the rule; the average last year was 86 per cent of the enrollment. In this and other respects the schools of Hawaii compare favorably with the best in the United States.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Josephine Jones Pyatt, who died last Tuesday morning at her late home on North Church street, was one of the pioneer residents of Jacksonville. She was born in what is now the Dunlap house on West State street. Her father was Elder John T. Jones, a prominent evangelist of the Christian church. He was also at one time superintendent of the Illinois School for the Deaf. Mrs. Pyatt was one of a family of eight children, only one of whom survives her—W. W. Jones of Denver, Colo. The late Charles W. Jones of Lynnville was another brother.

Mrs. Pyatt was educated at Eureka college about the time that institution changed its name from Walnut Grove academy. She graduated from Greenville Institute, at Harrodsburg, Ky. Later she was one of the teachers in Berea college—a school that continued for several years in the building standing on the site of Passavant hospital. She also taught in the public schools.

She was married to Oliver Pyatt in 1865, upon his return from serving in the union army, and had rather a large part in the life of Jacksonville. She possessed a splendid memory, which was stored with a wealth of useful information. She was known as a writer of no mean powers. She organized the Hospital Aid society for Passavant hospital and became its first president. She was active in raising funds for the erection of the Christian church on East State street, and was a most efficient secretary of the local auxiliary to the Christian Woman's Board of Missions. She became a Christian at an early age and was active in the affairs of the church.

At different times in her life she lived in Canton, Mo., and Pekin, Ill., where her husband was in the government service. She was also well known at Eureka, Ill., where her brother lived, in whose home she was married. Mr. Pyatt died Nov. 24, 1903, in Pekin. Had she lived another week, Mrs. Pyatt would have been 75 years old at the time of her death. For several years she had been an invalid, due to a fall suffered in 1909.

Mrs. Pyatt was the mother of six children, three of whom, Janvier, Addie and Charles, preceded her in death. Those who survive her are Mrs. Edith Pyatt Dunlap, Benjamin Pyatt and Josephine Pyatt.

The funeral services were conducted from her late residence by Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of the Central Christian church. He read a scripture lesson from the sixteenth chapter of John and commented on the difference between temporal and spiritual values. Mrs. A. M. Roberts sang feelingly "Morning Time" and "Crossing the Bar." Interment was made in the family burial lot in Jacksonville cemetery.

An Excellent Cough Medicine. The soothing and healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy make it especially valuable for coughs and colds. It is pleasant and safe to take and contains no narcotic. For sale by all dealers.

LONDON AFFAIRS.

By Associated Press.

London, May 26.

A titled widow, said to be of great wealth, has declared, according to a friend, who is not permitted to give the lady's name until her property interests in England are disposed of, that she will soon remove to some state in America where women enjoy the franchise and become a citizen of the United States. She has declared that she will never return to England until the vote is granted here to women on exactly the same terms as those given to men. The lady has several children and she will educate them in America.

The original iron grill which surrounded the tomb of Mary, Queen of Scots, in Westminster Abbey, has been offered for sale in a London curio shop. The grill was stolen from the abbey early last century. It is understood that the abbey authorities are considering the question of purchasing the grill, which is held at $3,000, but they have practically decided not to buy it back again, for it would obstruct the view of the tomb.

Edwary Clayton, the Richmond chemist, who is charged with conspiring with the militant suffragettes in an arson campaign, is not the only male supporter of the Amazons, for the police are now looking for a 14 year old boy, who is said to have left a trail of destruction behind. This boy, whose name has not been learned by the police, enlisted in the campaign of destruction because his mother and sister had been sent to jail, where they were forcibly fed. The youth soon surpassed all of his feminine competitors in postbox raids.

Operating from his own home, the youthful raider is said to have fired 90 street postboxes. Postboxes were his specialty, but he is also believed to have devoted some of his time to the destruction of golf greens. Because he was not suspected, the boy was able to raid boxes in his neighborhood where a woman could not have escaped detection. The police may have some difficulty in locating the boy, who has been persuaded by his friends to desist from the campaign on the plea that he has accomplished quite enough to avenge his militant relatives.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Jacksonville Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyances of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what a Jacksonville citizen says:

Mrs. Dora E. Price, Plum St., Jacksonville, Ill., says: "A few months ago I was attacked by pain across the small of my back and some time after an attack of La Grippe affected my kidneys. The kidney secretions became unnatural, causing me much annoyance. I had often heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and resolving to try them, I procured a supply at Armstrongs' Drug Store. Soon after I began using them the pain disappeared and my kidneys were restored to a normal condition. I willingly allow my name to be used in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agent for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ST. LOUIS STORM ANNIVERSARY. Seventeen years ago, May 27, 1896 St. Louis and East St. Louis were visited by a cyclone which was devastating in its effects.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS FARMER ELOPES WITH YOUNG GIRL

David L. Cover Age Sixty-Five Disappears With Helen Paryshowsky Age Sixteen—Girl is Said to Have Been Inmate of White Hall Home.

A dispatch to the St. Louis Globe Democrat from Salem, Ill., tells of the disappearance of David L. Cover, a farmer of that locality accompanied by a sixteen year old girl who is said to have formerly lived in an institution at White Hall. The dispatch says:

"Intense excitement reigns in the neighborhood six miles east of this city on account of the sudden disappearance of David L. Cover, a wealthy farmer of that community, and his 14-year old foster daughter, Helen Paryshowsky. Cover abandoned his wife to steal away with the child, and efforts to locate them have been unavailing. They have not been heard of since last Wednesday when it is stated they were at Shattuc, Ill., and informed a farmer to whom they talked that they were going to drive to Kansas.

Charges of kidnapping, wife abandonment and violation of the white slave act will be lodged against Cover if he is apprehended. The local authorities have sent notices broadcast to be on the lookout for the pair, and if arrested they will be returned to this county. Cover and his wife adopted the child a year ago, having taken her from the orphan's home at White Hall, Ill., permission having been granted them by the Illinois State Board of Charities. Neighbors stated that shortly after the appearance of the girl at the Cover home he immediately began paying her undue attention, and took her upon frequent trips to surrounding towns, leaving his wife to look after the work on the farm.

Some days ago Miss Mary Jewell, a member of the Board of Charities, made a visit to the Cover home, but did not see the girl. Miss Jewell was informed that the girl was visiting relatives at Lincoln, Ill. Miss Jewell went to Lincoln, but was unable to locate the girl. A second visit was made by the state inspector to the Cover home and an explanation was demanded. Mrs. Cover informed the visitor that what she had previously told was as given by her husband.

Insanity discloses the fact that Cover disposed of all of his personal possessions and that he started west in a covered wagon. It is also learned that the foster daughter, instead of being at Lincoln, was in Sandoval, Ill., waiting until Cover came along in his wagon and picked her up. Miss Paryshowsky is a girl of striking appearance and appears older than the records show.

Cover is 65 years old and since his removal to this locality, fifteen years ago, had borne a splendid reputation. He was a man of influence and a deacon in the German Baptist Church east of this city. Mrs. Cover is at a loss to explain the action of her husband. She is almost prostrated over the notoriety.

POSTMASTER HAS HARD LUCK

Mount Carmel, Ill.—Postmaster T. G. Risley of Mount Carmel has decided that he is one of the most unlucky men in Illinois. Within the last two weeks he has escaped death three times by a narrow margin. Two weeks ago his foot was injured by a rusty nail. Blood poisoning set in and for a time he was threatened with lockjaw.

Fully recovered, last Monday evening he and Mrs. Risley went for a drive. The horse became frightened, ran away and turned the buggy over upon the occupants, pinning them down in a ditch. Last evening the postmaster went for an auto ride. On the return home the machine leaped off of an 8 foot embankment and turned upside down. Risley was caught under the machine. By the narrowest chance he was but slightly injured when rescued half an hour later.

DEATHS FROM ACCIDENTS.

Killed By Interurban Car. Springfield.—Mrs. W. F. Williams 43 years old, was killed by an interurban car on the Illinois traction system today. Mrs. Williams was a member of a picnic party. She was walking across a bridge, when she was struck. Her sister jumped and escaped.

Died From Fright. East St. Louis.—Mrs. Anna Welsh 72 years old, died of fright today when she saw that the street car on which she was riding was about to collide with an automobile.

Child Shot By Playmate. Quincy.—While Charles Johnson, aged 14, and Herbert Davis, aged 11, were playing with revolvers last evening, young Davis accidentally shot Johnson, causing instant death.

Three Die By Drowning. Benton.—John Bryant aged about 60, a farmer, was found drowned in his well here today. He had jumped into the well last night.

Walter Whitlow today tried to ford a stream near here and was drowned with his team. He was about 45 years old and a widower. He left his three children on the bank before starting.

Swallowed Grain of Corn. Springfield.—Illness resulting from the accidental swallowing of a grain of corn resulted in the death at the Springfield hospital, at 11 o'clock Saturday night of Clarence Herberd Stoll, aged 2 years, 6 months and fifteen days, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stoll of Mt. Pleasant.

One week ago the child was playing with a sack of shelled corn placed upon a shelf, and while looking up a grain of corn dropped into his mouth and down his throat. Treatment at home failed to bring relief and about 9 o'clock Saturday night the babe was brought to this city in an automobile and taken to the hospital. An X-ray examination and also a surgical operation, said to have been performed, failed to disclose the location of the grain.

NEW YORK WINS EASILY FROM BOSTON

SCORE SEVEN RUNS IN FOURTH INNING.

Braves Pitcher Hit Hard and is Replaced By Rudolph, Who Holds Giants to Two Hits—Murray Knocks Ball Over Fence.

Boston, May 26.—New York scored seven runs in the fourth inning of today's game and defeated Boston 7 to 2. James was hit hard in that inning and was succeeded by Rudolph who held the visitors to two singles. Murray's hit over the left field fence for a home run was the first that has been made in that direction here this season. Score:

RUDOLFO WINS KENTUCKY HANDICAP, BREAKING TRACK RECORD

Passes Ten Point On Stretch After the Latter Had Led For Most of the Distance.

Louisville, Ky., May 26.—Rudolfo a four year old colt well ridden by Jockey Loftus, won the Kentucky handicap, the richest American turf event at Douglas park today and set a new track record of 2:05 4-5 for the mile and a quarter. The track record was equalled once and broken three times in the six races of the opening program of the meeting.

The eleven starters in the handicap included some of the crack three year olds that have shown class at the spring meetings, but the race went to an older horse and gained a point for those who contend a really good horse is at its best at a four year old. Rudolfo won the race by a length from a three year old, Ten Point, after the latter had led for most of the distance.

Rudolfo paid more than 8 to 1. The Kentucky handicap which featured the card for the opening of the meet at Douglas park carried $10,000 added money and was worth to H. H. Emons, owner of the winner, $12,150.

ATHLETICS SPLIT EVEN IN DOUBLE HEADER WITH WASHINGTON

Philadelphia Takes First Contest 1 to 0 and Drops Second 9 to 2.

Philadelphia, May 26.—The American Leagueers indulged in their first double header of the season to day and split even with Washington. Philadelphia won the first, 4 to 0 and Washington the second, 9 to 2. There was nothing to the second game but Walter Johnson. He pitched for seven innings and then with Washington far in the lead he was relieved by Boehing, who went to Groom's assistance in the first game.

QUINCY PAIR PIER VICTIMS.

Quincy, Ill.—Among the serious ly wounded by the collapse of the pier at Long Beach, Cal., Saturday, are Mr. and Mrs. Clement Bush of this city. The first dispatch sent to relatives here said both were rendered unconscious, but news received today says Mr. Bush has regained consciousness with fair prospects for recovery. Mrs. Bush is reported to be in a critical condition.

Mr. Bush was born in Bristol, England, and came here from Canada in 1888. He established the Bush Brass and Iron foundry. His first wife died several years ago and he was married again in London to an English woman. He is about 75 years of age and the present Mrs. Bush is about 50.

ON THE SIDELINES.

Most of the fans in this man's town are all glad that Jack Herbert's Pekinians are leading the I-M league race. It is with this particular team that our own Buck Simms is pitching such good ball. Scouts from higher leagues were in the stands at Sunday's game with Champaign and it may be the boy's good work will yet be noticed by somebody worth while.

Old John Hanna, who used catch for Beardstown, has come back to earth and is playing first base for Champaign. He is hitting well.

But for Johnson, Washington would soon be down in the second division. None of Griff's other twirlers are displaying anything like championship form. If Walter should go wrong it would be all over with the Senator's chances.

New York beat Boston 7 to 2. The figures about represent the difference in class between the two.

Looks like we shall have to hand it to Philadelphia in the National if not in the American also.

Jasper continues to win and to strike them out in bunches. He made ten men walk back to the bench in Sunday's game. It may be that he will prove himself worth the almost prohibitive price placed upon him by Clarence Rowland.

The Quincy Journal says that Hackett has strengthened the local bunch to such an extent since the start of the race that they should now be able to keep pace with the best of them.

Bloomington and Peoria seem to be the class of the Three-Eye league thinks the Quincy Journal and figures it out that these two must be beaten out to win in the long run. Quite a compliment for Harry Syfert.

Hannibal is trying to revive interest in the game by going after the St. Louis Cardinals and another big league team, presumably the Cubs, to stop off and give an exhibition game there some time in July. If we had grounds the same stunt might be pulled off here. Such an exhibition would certainly draw better than that airship-auto concern that was here not long since.

Lee McGee is proving his worth to the Cardinals as a utility man. He is now playing a star game at short for the red hose.

Pennington's Kewanee team of which so much was expected, is next to last in the Central Association. Another big disappointment is Belvidere. Cedar Rapids, the veteran has been out of the game so long that he failed to take into account the greater development that has occurred in minor ranks in the last few years. Hence his underestimating the strength of the Central. Boyle knew better and as a result has a pretty good team at Muscatine, Keokuk, is a bad lag in the procession.

Joe Link, the Ottumwa catcher, added $50 to his bank account the other day by passing the Bull Durham sign for a triple.

Hussell, the Sox phenomenon, who was "beamed" in a recent contest, has been placed under the doctor's care. Callahan is not taking any chances on his star's suffering permanent injury from neglect.

Fans have been wondering what McGraw could have wanted with Art Fromme, in view of the fact that the Giants are already over supplied with pitching talent. It transpires that Mac is after hard hitting outfielders and wants Vince Campbell of the Boston Braves. If he can make a trade with Stallings, Art will figure in the deal, the Braves are sorely in need of reliable box artists. Fromme is still a good man and would be handy in the Boston camp.

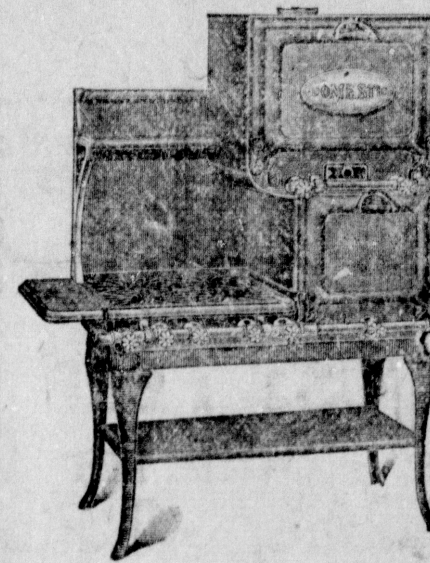

Washington will soon be at home for a long stay and should make up some of the ground lost on the long trip. Considering the patched up condition of the team it has done pretty well.

Clarence Rowland says that Spring field is dead. He did not get enough change out of the four games played there to pay for car fare. Short stop Derrick seems to be justifying Manager Chance's confidence in him. He is playing as classy a game as any of them. As Tesreau says, "Derrick has only to be given every opportunity to demonstrate that he will be in Wagner's class someday."

BIRTHDAY OF QUEEN MARY.
London, May 26.—The forty-sixth birthday anniversary of Queen Mary was celebrated at Windsor today. The bells of St. George's chapel and of Windsor parish church were rung, and a royal salute was fired in the Long Walk, Windsor Great Park. Many messages of greeting were despatched by relatives and friends to Berlin, where their majesties are visiting the German emperor.

MICHIGAN CHARITY CONFERENCE.
Ann Arbor, Mich., May 26.—Delegates are arriving for the first Michigan conference of charities and corrections, which is to be held here this week. Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo, George Bellamy of Cleveland, Dr. J. P. Gilmour, warden of the central prison, Toronto, and a number of others prominent in charitable and correctional work are scheduled to address the conference.

In Cleveland they call Frank Chance's team "The Wrecking Crew." It was the Highlanders who put Lajoie and Birmingham on the hospital list besides being the only eastern team to take a series from the Naps.

JAP TO PLAY HOPPE FOR TITLE

New York, May 26.—The question as to whether William F. Hoppe, the youthful billiard player, is invincible with the cue may find its answer in the match at the Hotel Astor tomorrow night, when he will defend his title of 18.2 balk line champion against Koji Yamada, the Japanese expert. The contest promises to be the most attractive to all lovers of the art of carroms. Both of the principals are brilliant exponents of the intricacies and beauties of balk line billiards. In the tournament for the world's championship at the Hotel Astor last winter Yamada was the only player who scored a victory over Hoppe.

Surprising Cure of Stomach Trouble.
Jacob Hindelang, of Chelsea, Mich., was ill with stomach trouble and in such bad shape that he lived for two months on lime-water and milk. He then began using Chamberlain's Tablets. He says: "I am seventy-six years of age but never in my life used any medicine that cured in such a short time as Chamberlain's Tablets." For sale by all dealers.

FREE ADVICE TO SICK WOMEN

Thousands Have Been Helped By Common Sense Suggestions.

Women suffering from any form of female ills are invited to communicate promptly with the woman's private correspondence department of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established a confidential correspondence which has extended over many years and which has never been broken. Never have they published a testimonial or used a letter without the written consent of the writer, and never has the company allowed these confidential letters to get out of their possession, as the hundreds of thousands of them in their files will attest.

Out of the vast volume of experience which they have to draw from, it is more than possible that they possess the very knowledge needed in your case. Nothing is asked in return except your good will, and their advice has helped thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, should be glad to take advantage of this generous offer of assistance. Address Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

LETTER FROM INDIA.

(By Melville T. Kennedy.)

Sunday.

This past week has been a delightful one, so quiet, uninterrupted and comfortable. I have put in good long hours in study and we have walked or played in the late afternoons. I have had much amusement trying to converse with the servants.

On Thursday afternoon we fixed up the Badminton court and have played at it since. It is an English game entirely—sort of an enlarged ping pong. It is played with net and courts as in tennis, but on a much larger scale, the ball being a cork affair barked with feathers. This is knocked back and forth with small rackets, the thing being so light it requires considerable skill and quickness to keep it from reaching the ground.

Today we went to the Bengal service at 8 a. m. and again to the English service following the second native service at 6 p. m. Just six of us besides the padre. Myra played the hymns on a little gospel organ, such as Phil Reed used to have. We three, here in the house, sing around it Sunday evenings.

Last evening I attended a prayer meeting of men on the veranda of one of the houses near by in the Christian community. We squatted on the matting, just a little group by lantern light. There are prayers morning and evening daily in the church, except Saturday evening, when they are held at some house.

We are treated nightly to as weird a chorus of yells as I have ever heard. It is the jackals, who start to run as soon as darkness falls. Their cry is indescribable, piercing, wailing, blood-curdling. They correspond to the coyotes on the prairie, I fancy, but have a cry that is in a class by itself. They come quite close at times, but never venture on the veranda.

We couldn't have found a more enjoyable life than this has been so far. Bobby is not yet reconciled to the ayah, but gets on better with her than with the one we tried in Calcutta. She takes him out in his cart from 7:30 to 9:30 a. m. and from 4 to 5:30 p. m. I wish you could see the routine of pickaninny's that attend him almost every day at some time or other. There are a number of cute little boys in the Christian community and they come around in expectation when it is time for him to come out. They follow the ayah about and when Bobby is out of the cart they play around in various ways. One evening there were six or seven of them, some most cunning, all sitting in a row and Bobby in front of them looking up in their faces so earnestly. He thinks they are a great institution. Of course there is danger here, for these youngsters all look up to and are taught to serve the Sahib's children, the result being that quite easily that Bobby will be spoiled by such relationships. But we'll hope to avoid that and in the meantime it is good for him to see and play with the other children.

We are having fine vegetables at every meal. Just now the green peas are delicious, also good cabbages, beans, potatoes and turnips. Chickney is the staple meat diet; we have it every day, there being nothing else. Bananas are grown here, small ones, rather dry and coarse. Oranges we do not have. Other varieties of fruit come on more in the rainy season. Flowers and roses abound, those we saw in the Crawford's gardens being probably the finest array of roses and sweet peas I ever saw.

I was mighty glad to receive the I. C. alumni catalogue. What a lot of light it throws on the whereabouts of all the college chaps, of whom I had lost all track. It is a good move surely.

Friday.

We had a particularly pleasant experience this afternoon. It has been raining a most unusual thing here in February. There was enough to lay the thick dust well and to freshen everything. The effect was delightful and it was a new pleasure to go out walking after tea. There will probably be no more rain till June. The bit of cloudiness gave us a strange sensation after such intense and constant sunshine. It is almost bewildering in the unbroken series of bright, blazing days even though we are grateful for the relief. And yet it is just this Indian sun, terrible and pitiless, that makes life here safe and liveable at all. It is the great disinfectant without which germs by the millions would make life impossible.

I had no punning today owing to its being a "puja" day, (i. e.) a day of worship, in this case to Saravati the goddess of learning. All the Hindu schools are closed and Hindus take part in the worship. One feature is the piling up of school books and their being practically worshipped by the boys doing "puja" to them, the idea being if fancy that the goddess is represented by and possibly thought of as being actually in the books. This goddess is about the one fair and attractive goddess in the whole pantheon, conceived of as all in white. Usually the popular conceptions are revolting and ugly from an esthetic standpoint to say nothing of the moral and spiritual.

Several times since arriving we have heard the sound of a native wedding drums, conch shells, bombs and tin cans. Often it continues much of the night. This village is most curious, the huts being built on no plan whatever that I can discover, with jungle growth. The Indians love the jungle about them seemingly as much as Europeans do the clearing. It is a curious sight to walk about along these paths in among the huts. If we go with the baby the people will gather in front and behind us and gaze at us though we had dropped from the skies. We are curiosities enough alone, but the baby draws them right out in the pathway.

Saturday.

You will probably remember my speaking of the Crawfords. Mr. Crawford, some 15 Calcutta people the manager or owner of large land holdings. The Crawfords have been entertaining some fifteen Cloutia people at a "pig stick" at a branch place of their some miles away. A "pig stick" is a big hunting party with wild boar as the game. They chase them across country like fox in England and the sport gets its name from the fact that the weapons used are long spears with which they stick the creatures from horseback. Would you believe that these animals can almost outrun horses and keep it up at that pace for miles? Such is the truth and they are ferocious creatures. When finally overtaken they turn and charge the horse and if the rider does not stick his animal in all likelihood he will have a disabled horse for the boars sink their tusks in the horses legs again and again. It is a wild and costly sport, one native being killed only last week and a rider and his horse badly hurt in an accident.

You may be surprised not to hear more of missionary work, but remember I am sticking closely to my study and seeing little of anything else. Indeed there is little here to see anyway.

Parisian Sage is the only certain destroyer of the dandruff microbe which is the cause of 97 per cent of hair troubles.

These pernicious, persistent and destructive little devils thrive on the ordinary hair tonics.

Parisian Sage is such an extraordinary and quick acting rejuvenator that Coover & Shreve, who are the agents in Jacksonville guarantee it to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

And a large bottle of Parisian Sage costs only 50 cents at Coover & Shreve and leading druggists all over America.

SHERMAN SEES 3 PARTIES PATTERNED AFTER ENGLAND.

Liberals, Conservatives and Radicals Will Follow Political Transformation, Solon Predicts.

Washington, May 26.—Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois, commenting upon the divisions of political parties and especially in the Republican party, declared that in the future of American politics what a man believes means more than what he calls himself. In his opinion a transformation of great magnitude is now in progress and mere party labels no longer tell what the wearers think.

Sherman said a great many men could not distinguish between progress and motion, and that there was a difference between starting something and getting somewhere, but the radicals in the so-called progressive movement could not see the difference and represent in the human family what the dog chasing his tail does in canine circles.

Senator Sherman is optimistic in his views as to the elements which stand for real progress, getting together for constructive purposes, and he predicts that in the end political economists and their followers will resolve themselves into parties corresponding to the liberal, conservative and radical parties of England, with the conservative training with the liberal as against the radical for preservation of our institutions.

Sherman says a lot of politicians posing as leaders are Socialists and don't know it.

If you have any trouble with your stomach or liver, these tablets will certainly do you good. For sale by all dealers.

Woman's World

Mrs. J. P. Morgan, One of World's Richest Widows.

MRS. J. PIERPONT MORGAN

Mrs. J. Pierpont Morgan, widow of the financier, is now to be classed with Mrs. Russell Sage, Mrs. E. H. Harriman and Mrs. Robert Goetz among the richest widows of America and possibly of the world. The public has known little of this very charming woman who has cared absolutely nothing for society with a capital S.

She has always had an antipathy for the camera and not long ago informed a presumptuous reporter with photographic equipment that she would break his picture. A smile accompanied her remark, however, and she said it in a kindly way.

It was while discussing this phase of newspaper work that Mrs. Morgan spoke of the unsought advertisements associated with the philanthropic enterprises of her daughter, Miss Anne Tracy Morgan.

Mrs. Morgan is an ardent antifragrant. Her conversion took place several years ago after spending a week in Colorado and seeing some conditions of which she disapproved. They were due, she was told, to the enfranchisement of women.

J. P. Morgan was twice married. The present Mrs. Morgan, who was Frances Louise Tracy, daughter of Charles Tracy, one of New York's leading lawyers in the seventies, was the magnate's second wife. His first wife, Miss Sturgis, lived only one year after their marriage.

The Morgan house, at the corner of Madison avenue and East Thirty-sixth street, New York city, is notable because of the attractive gardens lying between it and the home of J. P. Morgan, Jr., on East Thirty-seventh street. Including the Morgan private library and art treasures, this is one of the most attractive group of private residences in the heart of the city.

The favorite home of Mrs. Morgan, however, is Cragston, the country estate of the Morgan family at Highland Falls, N. Y. Whenever Mr. and Mrs. Morgan sailed abroad hampers of the things produced there were sent to the ship. The Morgan family consists of a son and three daughters. Two of the latter are married, one being the wife of Herbert L. Satterlee; the other is Mrs. William Patterson Hamilton. The youngest daughter, Miss Anne Tracy Morgan, has been reported engaged to be married almost as often as Miss Elkins. To a friend not long ago Miss Morgan said:

"I have not yet met a man whose wife I'd rather be than the daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan."

The New Arm Bouquets.

With the advent of the new dances, the turkey trot, the tango and high school glide, the corsage bouquet has become almost an impossibility, yet the debutantes and dancing set must have flowers to complete their costumes.

Of course no one will wear artificial flowers where there is the slightest possibility of wearing natural ones, so the up to date florists have substituted for the corsage bouquet the flower spray or arm bouquet. The bouquets are made of sweet peas, violets, orchids, roses—in fact, most any of the seasonable flowers can be used. These are tied with ribbons to the arm of the wearer and are both practical and pretty.

Ida Tarbell a Judge.

Announcement was made recently by the national association opposed to woman suffrage that Miss Ida M. Tarbell, Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin and Miss Jeanette Leonard Gilder are the judges selected to decide what two women out of all those in the United States can set down within 500 words the best argument against woman suffrage and win the two $100 prizes offered for such essay.

One prize is to go to the best argument submitted by any girl or woman from the city and the other to the best argument from the country. Only women are allowed to compete.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make the necessary repairs.

For weak stomachs and the indigestion or dyspepsia resulting, and the multitude of diseases following therefrom, no medicine can be more adaptable as a curative agent than DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

This famous Doctor's prescription has been recommended for over 40 years, and is today just as big a success. Restores a healthy appetite. Cleanses the blood. Strengthens the nerves. Regulates stomach and liver. Demand the original.

Cleans Blood Through Kidneys

A Most Important Function and One to be Carefully Guarded.

S. S. S. is a Wonder. It Makes You Look and Feel the Picture of Real Health.

The purpose of the kidneys being to filter the blood the question of treating supposed kidney weakness should be considered carefully. Instead of drugs and alleged kidney stimulants, the better plan is to purify the blood with an antidotal effect such as you get from S. S. S.

It should be remembered that the kidneys are made up of a fine net work of blood vessels, and it is to stimulate the functional activity of kidney tissue through this capillary net work that S. S. S. shows one of its most remarkable effects.

The medicinal value of the components of S. S. S. is relatively just as vital to healthy kidney action as the nutriment obtained from grain, meat, fats, sugars, or any other part of our daily food is to the natural reconstructive requirements of the tissues. And there is one component of S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the cellular tissues of the kidneys to a healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. Thus, in cases of rheumatism, cystitis, chronic sore throat, business of voice, bronchitis, asthma, and the myriad of other reflex indications of weak kidney action, first purify your blood with S. S. S. so it will enable the tissues to rebuild their cellular strength and regain their normal health.

S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 127 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you have any diseased or obstinate blood trouble, write to their Medical Dept. for free advice. It will be worth your while to do so. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores.

The Power of the Cross

A Wonderful Two-Reel Melodrama.

This photo-drama is of a similar school of literature as Hall Calne's "The Christian," and though a different tale, will suggest that great play. A young clergyman through an unfortunate marriage, is tempted to renounce God and the church and fight his battle as a layman, but the good offices of a pure woman overrules his passion and hand in hand they go forth to bear the burden and teach "The power of the cross."

Arthur Johnson plays the role. An absolute guarantee, one of the best pictures ever put on a screen.

TELLS OF CONDITIONS DOWN IN MANILA

ORIENT AND OCCIDENT IN UNION MAKE QUEER SURROUNDINGS.

Modern Structures Often Adjoin Cathedrals Which Have Stood For Centuries—Ancient Walls of Manila Present Points of Interest—S. W. Nichols Writes From Island Possessions.

I had been skeptical that an organ could be constructed of such material, but seeing was believing, for there it stood with its front stone twelve feet wide, all of bamboo speaking pipes, the largest eight feet long and five inches in diameter. The further I went with careful examination the greater the wonder grew. The horizontal reeds were made of soft metal rolled very thick, but aside from these 122 pipes, every pipe in the organ is made of bamboo and as there are 714 pipes, the unique character of the old instrument may be imagined. The most surprising thing is to find an organ 109 years old with a five octave board. He placed a full octave of pedal notes below this one finished with an F scale and the upper keys were originally covered with bone, which had disappeared. There are 22 stops arranged in vertical rows, the names being written on a strip beside the knobs. I took a seat at the keyboard and tried to play, but the result was ghostly enough for the most fastidious. The hoary old pipes began with one accord to weep and wail the dirge of their long dead master and no howling dirge could have done better, if worse. It has been some years since the last mass was played on the bamboo organ and the cyphers appeared to have outvoted the rest of the box of whistles. The sides are stuck and few of the knobs will draw. The action is roller board and is in good order yet.

"Crude as is the workmanship, it stands, and if the chests were as good as the action and pipes it would be a good organ today. The interior of the organ is full of interest. It stands inside of and under one of the arches of the heavy wall of the nave and is thus partly protected from the weather. Many of the pipes are full of dirt and now speechless, but most of them are as good as the day they were finished. Way back in the seventeenth century, the old bamboo is as hard as iron and where not injured by rough handling is all the better for its long seasoning.

"There is the inevitable mixture of five ranks of thirty notes in the treble organ and it must have sounded like a score of squealing whistles when twenty of those squealing whistles were sounding at once. Like most old organs there is very little bass, and none of greater length than six feet stops and of course there were no string tones. The two metal reeds afforded the only variety in the arrangement of flutes and every variety of tone. The tones of single pipes taken out and sampled are surprisingly good and one is tempted to ask if bamboo organ pipes might not be used today. The wood is strong, perfectly tight and almost everlasting. Straight pipes of circular form could be selected and with little ingenuity there is little reason why a good stop should not be made of the one universal commodity of the orient."

There seems to be little discrepancy with the foregoing account and the facts, for Mr. Ewert played on the old instrument and while it was fearfully out of order it is still used for worship. Only one other like it was made by the padre and he sent it as a gift to the queen of Spain, who prized it highly.

Valued Friends.
On the steamer from San Francisco we met a number of persons and some warm friendships ensued and one of the most delightful of these was that of Mrs. F. G. Smolt, whose husband is connected with a prominent business house of this city. They have a charming home in a pleasant part of the city and a lovely young daughter, who has decided talent for music, which they have wisely cultivated. They kindly invited us to their home and made us most welcome and entertained us in a lovely manner. The young daughter and the young member of our company had a fine time bathing in the surf, in which the water is as warm almost as milk. They had a royal time and one long to be remembered. The daughter is to start in a day or two for a horseback tour of the lower part of the islands and is anticipating a fine time.

Visit to Some Industries.
After a delightful visit at the hospitable home of Mr. Smolt I was invited by that gentleman to spend a forenoon with him, as he had a number of business calls to make and in passing about I would be enabled to study conditions better. I found him a well known gentleman, standing high in the esteem of the business community and wherever we went we were received and taken through places which are not always open to visitors.

A prominent man in this city is a Mr. Clark and he certainly is a good one. He has a large ice cream and confectionery establishment and in addition a large factory, where he makes tons of candies of all kinds, casts coffee and does a lot of things in general.

We called at another place where an enterprising German is extracting from a flower called lang lang, through a series of stills, the basis of a perfume, making a product which is worth half its weight in gold. He sends most of his output to France, where it is used by perfumery manufacturers.

The button factory was quite interesting. The Pacific coast abounds in beautiful shells and it looked almost sacrilegious to see the machines cutting up such lovely things and I wanted to bring away some, but they were too large. The buttons are sent all over the world and are made in large quantities every day.

The national prison is, too, a busy place, as they have no laws here yet, so far as I could learn, prohibiting convict labor. Mr. Smolt was well acquainted with the warden and other officials and we were shown through all parts of the establishment. They believe in making prison life as odious as possible and require prisoners to wear the zebra garb in mist cases. They have men there mostly from the islands, though I noticed a few Japs and one old fellow from China. They are generally kept busy and make a great variety of goods. The machine shop is a place full of the hum of machines, and it will have to be enlarged. They make some beautiful furniture both of wood and bamboo or rattan, while wagons, tools and a great variety of goods are turned out. The head of the machine shop is a study Australian, who has been on a good part of the globe. He landed here a number of years ago, found a place in the prison machine shop next day and has been there ever since.

We called at a cotton mill and I must admit I was pained to see such small children at work among the humming machinery, but Mr. Smolt said they might as well be there anywhere, for they wouldn't go to school, and so lost nothing. The head of the concern of J. T. McClelland, a wide awake gentleman of untiring industry and originality. Among other things he showed us a new departure in cotton growing. He sold he was once on a tour of the islands and on a volcanic mountain found a small tree growing and which was something different from anything he had ever seen, as it seemed to be producing cotton. It was not justly called a tree, as it more resembled a large bush, probably about the size of a quince tree, only the limbs are smaller and more spreading. He asked a native about it and the man told him it had supplied cotton for the thread and clothing of his family for years. Mr. McClelland secured some of the seed and planted it and found indeed the tree did produce a superior quality of cotton and that it is a perennial, not needing to be planted each year.

He has had the trees growing in his yard for some time and has disposed of enough seed to plant large lots of land and means to give the plant a thorough trial. It remains to be seen how it will do on a large scale and whether or not it will thrive anywhere but in the tropics. Mr. McClelland gave me a package of the seed and some cotton and I mean to submit it to our florists at home and see what they think of it. If it should prove a solution of the question of enemies to cotton in our own southern states it certainly would be a great blessing.

The Museum.

A visit to the museum proved a great treat and again emphasized the wonderful variety of resources possessed in this wonderful land. The words especially attracted my attention and I at once asked if they had forest conservation laws, but was told that such useful legislation is sadly needed. The size and variety of the timber of this country is a wonder and anything like a suitable description would be impossible within a reasonable space. I saw one table made of Luma wood with a top of one piece and nine feet, seven inches in diameter and another ten feet, four inches in diameter, and both had a beautiful polish. There were many others and some of which are preferable to mahogany for various purposes. The coffins made by the natives are unique and of course crude and cheap. They simply prepare a shell of grass or some sort of vegetable growth, place the body in it and consign it to the mother earth. A variety of hats attracted my attention, as they were made of shells, bamboo fiber, rattan and various materials, and all were quite artistic. The fine work on some of them was remarkable. There is a great deal of coral found along the shores of the sea and some little work is done in silk, but not much. Rubber trees are also receiving attention. The boats made by the natives are such as would be expected from such persons. Some are fitted with outriggers and calculated to ride the waves in good shape. A rattan vine 500 feet long was shown and Mr. Smolt said they grew longer than that at times.

A Spanish Club.

Mr. Smolt is a member of the exclusive Spanish club and we went there for a rest, which we much enjoyed. It is a fine building and is chiefly sustained by gentlemen of Spanish origin, though not entirely so. It is sumptuously fitted with reading and lounging rooms, banquet halls and all accessories of a first class establishment of its kind and it is indeed grand. I suppose some people enjoy such fine affairs, but for me, I am hardly up to it, though I have no criticism for those who are members.

Chinese Day.

One day of our stay was spent by the Chinese residents in celebrating the recognition of the Chinese republic by the United States. On every hand flags with the colors of the new republic were waving and there was general rejoicing. Exuberant celebrations would characterize the regular cars about the city. I do not think I noticed any loud or boisterous conduct on the part of any of the merry makers, but instead they seemed to feel that this was a grave situation and called for something besides loud noise. The flag of the new republic is composed of five stripes. Red, yellow, blue, white and black, and it was to be seen waving in all directions. Street cars were decorated, fronts of business houses alive with the five bars and on all hand were signs of rejoicing.

A Tobacco Factory.

Tobacco is one of the great features of the islands and in its manufacture the best and most up to date machinery is used. We visited some of the very best and were courteously received by a man in seeming authority and he took us all over the place. He had been some years in our country, so that he was able to speak our language and he gave us many interesting facts. Cigars and cigarettes are the staple products of the place, which employs 1,500 persons, men, women and children, for here we find children painfully small busily engaged in preparing the weed for use. For the ordinary grade of cigarettes they have a machine which turns out 160 cigarette a minute and they have a hundred of such machines. They are put up in packages and by feeling the girls can tell when they have the right number, and the man in charge said the girls would not eat 1,000 packages a day. The best quality though are made by hand, girls and women being employed in that work. A great room is devoted to the men workers, who make up the cigars as we make them at home and I didn't see any women at these tables. The guide said their highest priced products cost 25 cts each, gold. I am inclined to think I would do little smoking at that rate were I a smoker. The goods go over the greater part of the world and there are several establishments as large as the one we visited.

Y. M. C. A.

Manila possesses a flourishing Y. M. C. A. society and we much enjoyed a visit in the building, which is most admirably equipped. It is a large and commodious, with a good membership and fine operation. It is supplied with excellent facilities in reading room, games of all kinds, a magnificent swimming pool, several tennis courts, a ball park, which is small and inclosed in netting to prevent the loss of the ball, a fine gymnasium, class rooms and all the accessories of a first class establishment of that kind.

A Base Amusement.

A highly reprehensible form of amusement is cock fighting and in the smaller places and suburbs of the city, about the boats and elsewhere, it is carried on. They have a sort of amphitheater and in the center a place for the birds. Each bird is supplied with steel spurs, which are sheathed till ready for use, when the sheath is removed. Before the time of the fight the cocks are held close to each other and wrought up to a high pitch of animosity, so that when turned loose they are fierce and ready for blood. The contest is not as long as the bull fight, but is soon over. The fights are great attractions and betting runs high; many hundreds of dollars changing hands at a time. The whole is debasing, but it is a parochial institution and it will be a long time, if ever, before it is set aside by its devotees.

The Climate.

Of course the climate is enervating and it is not strange. Houses have to be built with an eye to coolness and every means taken to insure comfort and safety from the rays of the sun. Strange to say, the dogs don't go mad, though it is hard to tell why. Business houses expect to do little or nothing from one to four in the afternoon and many people find much satisfaction in taking a nap during those hours. The rainy seasons brings great deluges and in general the climate is not attractive to one from our salubrious land. Many are compelled to go away after a stay of a few years in order to brace up again. My friends have suffered far more than I during the stay here, for to tell the truth, about the only inconvenience I have experienced is profuse perspiration, but that is about all. The nights are some better than the day, especially without the walled city. The city streets are so narrow that little air can get through them, which is unfortunate.

Band Concerts.

Each evening the people of Manila are treated to some rare music by two bands, which alternate with each other. The first is the military band, which supplies fine music, and the other is the constabulary band and is wholly native except the leader, who is an African, but though his skin is black, he knows music if a man ever did. His band is fine and he has it well in hand and the numbers they furnish are fine. A large space has been devoted to the enterprise. Brilliant electric lights illuminate the grounds, seats are provided for a small fraction of those who wish to hear, a place is left for vehicles whose owners want to sit and enjoy the music and a large space is given to those who like to walk about. It is called the Luneta and is very popular.

River Life.

The river Pasig is an important part of the city of Manila and is spanned by a number of bridges, as the stream passes through the center of the place, almost, and in addition there are numerous canals. The Puente de Espana is the oldest bridge and has a great history. It has been enlarged several times to accommodate increasing traffic and is now one of the finest structures in the city.

There are five divisions of river shipping life. That behind the breakwater belongs to the sea; the lower Pasig harbors; the inter-island merchant marine; the Pasig above the old bridge mentioned is the terminus and general rendezvous of the lake traffic; the large canals float a great burden of provincial freight and the smaller serve as distributors of produce and building material all over the city.

The river population of Manila numbers over 15,000 who live on the boats they own and propel about the river and tributaries about the city and within its limits. Thousands of children are born, live and die within these narrow and loud smelling abodes. The little ones run all about the boat and why they are not drowned by the thousand no one can tell, but they are not. The living apartments of the family are usually in the last section of the boat. A fire pot, a flat platform, a rice kettle and two roosters form the general equipment of the establishment. The cabins consist of a bamboo slat bed and the saloon slat is furnished with the long handle of the rudder, by which the clumsy craft is guided on its travels.

The construction of these boats is a mystery to the persons unacquainted with them. They have no ribs or frame work of any sort, but are constructed of heavy plank put together with spikes and bolts, which produce something akin to a huge dug out, as I have seen in Alaska, and only these are much more clumsy and rude. In the lower bay the boats are mostly moved by launches or tow boats, but above the bridge the crafts are generally propelled by human power. On each side of the boat is a platform the whole length and on each a man places himself with a long bamboo pole, begins at the bow of the boat, sticks his pole in the mud and walks down platform and slowly moves the boat up stream, and two men will thus slowly propel a great craft heavily laden. As the boats move along they are in sight of the water oxen which have been dismissed from work and are luxuriating in a bath, which may be more mud than water, but is cooling to the mouse colored beast which has been laboriously drawing a heavy dray about the city.

A trip up the Pasig by sunset is delightful, for the sunsets rival but not equal those of Egypt. They are lovely though and much admired, for they are delicate and beautiful, lacking the immense glory often seen in our country, but are soft and of lovely tints.

OLIVE TABLETS OIL The BOWELS

A Physician's Substitute For Dangerous Calomel.

When you feel that your liver and bowels need help take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, substitute for Calomel. Calomel is effective, but dangerous—causing bad after-effects.

Olive Tablets are especially made to take the place of Calomel. Dr. Edwards for years has been Calomel's foe. He saw its dangers and its disadvantages in 17 years' practice treating patients for all kinds of liver and bowel complaints. In his efforts to do without Calomel he developed his now famous little olive-oil colored tablets. Olive Tablets are mild but effective. Safe and sure. Pleasant to take but unfailing in results.

Olive Tablets oil the bowels just enough to start nature's own action, and they tone up the liver at the same time. They are made from a rare combination of vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

If you want to regain that feeling of joyous buoyancy and clear thought take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They work like a vacation. 10 and 25c per box. "Every Little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." The Olive Tablet Co., Columbus.

How to Unearth a Scot.

A Scot, commenting on the fact that "Scottism" as a term of reproach has disappeared from Scottish schoolbooks, makes the curious contention that there is only one location now in which Englishmen discern a Scotsman's pen—in the uncertain use of "shall" and "will." And even there, he says, it has to be admitted that the English Bible often shows the same uncertainty. The name of the locations by which the pen of a Scot can be infallibly detected is legion, and Scots are fully aware of this. For example, Scots still write of certain horse drawn vehicles as "machines" and puzzle us by references to the "policies" of castles and country houses. They "homologate," too, do the writing Scots; allude to prisoners as "panels," take much to "arizandum" and "compear" their witnesses in a law case.—London Tatler.

Cost of Firing Naval Guns.

In the appendix to "A Landsman's Log" R. W. Neeser supplies many interesting and startling statistics in regard to naval expenses. Among other things he gives the cost of our guns, projectiles, etc. We learn from him that a single shot from a twelve inch gun costs about $124. Rapidly multiplied that by the number of guns shot off in a broadside and that again by the number of ships in the navy, and one may gain some idea of the expenses of modern target practice. When one further contemplates the cost of a modern battleship the possible expenditure involved in a naval engagement between two first class naval powers is appalling to contemplate.

He Didn't Sign.

"I seem to remember that lady. Who is she?" "She was my typist last year." "She's charming. Why did she leave you?" "She was too conscientious for me. One day I proposed marriage to her, and what do you think she did? She took all that I said down in shorthand and brought it, nicely typewritten, for me to sign."

A Fine Morning.

"Fine morning, your honor," affably remarked the man who had been arrested the night before for being drunk and disorderly. "Yes, indeed," responded the justice, "quite a fine morning—in fact, a tea dollar fine morning."

A Taxicab Mystery.

The great mystery presented by some of the taxicab meters is the question of how you could go that far in the space of time without being arrested for speeding.—Washington Star.

Want of care does us more harm than want of knowledge.—Franklin.

Woman's Beauty is Based on Health

To Have Health, Bowel Movement is Absolutely Necessary—How Best to Obtain it.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lusterless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly. Mrs. Jennie Snedeker, 1041 West Monroe St., Chicago, testifies that she is "cured of grave stomach and bowel troubles by using Syrup Pepsin and without the aid of a doctor or any other medicine." All the family can use Syrup Pepsin, for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people, in fact to all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided for at best their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently.

It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from gripping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative- tonic in America to day and thousands of families are now never without it.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin and you would like to make personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a druggist, send your address to a postal will do—Dr. W. R. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

THE WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

OPENING IRREGULAR MARKET TURNS HEAVY

VARIOUS CONDITIONS OFFERED IN EXPLANATION OF MOVE- MENT.

Absence of Any Definite News Regarding Union Pacific-Southern Pacific Dissolution Chief Among Depressing Factors.

(By Associated Press)
New York, May 26.—Disappointment was the portion today of that element on the stock market exchange which had looked for a resumption of last Saturday's strong and active market. Opening prices reflected a degree of irregularity which soon turned to heaviness.

Various country conditions were offered as explanation of the day's movement. Chief among these was the absence of any definite news in connection with the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific dissolution proceedings, although the chief executive of the first named system was in conference with the attorney general at Washington. Another deterrent factor was found in the protracted open session of the United States supreme court, whose deliberations continued after the market's close.

There was some disposition also,
to pay more than passing heed to a speech delivered last Saturday before a group of bankers in the middlewest by a representative of an influential local banking institution, in which a distinct note of caution was sounded. Finally the day brought a number of railroad earnings, few of which were favorable.

Trading relaxed to minor proportions in the late trading with recurrent heaviness in the leaders and an abrupt seven point advance in Virginia-Carolina preferred.

London's operations here were negligible, purchases of Union Pacific and other railers being nullified by sales of Canadian Pacific and industrials.

"Fourteen Year in Jacksonville."

Dr. C. W. Carson
The Regular and Reliable ChicagoSpecialist will be at the Dunlap House
Wednesday, May 28.
One day only and returns every 28 Days.
Office hours: 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

"The most reliable and successful specialist in diseases of MEN AND WOMEN has visited Jacksonville for the purpose of curing the cases he undertakes and refuses a fee from the incurables. This is why he continues his visits year after year, while other specialists have made a few visits and cease to return. His hospital, experience and extensive practice have made him so proficient that he can name and locate a disease in a few minutes."

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

Are you nervous and dependent; weak and debilitated; tired mornings; no ambition—littlest; memory poor; easily fatigued; excitable and irritable; eyes sunken, red and blurred; pimples on face; dreams and night losses; restless, haggard looking; weak back; deposits in urine and drains at stool; distrustful; want of confidence; lack of energy and strength? This Carson System will cure you.

Dr. Carson through years of experience has perfected the most infallible method of curing all diseases and weaknesses of men, youthful follicles and all effects of abuses and excesses, improper life and solitary habits which ruin both mind and body undirring for business, study, society or marriage. A perfect restoration guaranteed under legal contract in writing backed by abundant capital to hold for my promise. It costs no more to employ an expert than to risk your life with an inexperienced physician.

I ALSO CURE ALL CURABLE
CASES OF Catarrh, Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat, Lungs, Liver, Kidney, Heart, Stomach, Bowels, Bladder and Skin Diseases by a treatment that has never failed in thousands of cases that have been pronounced beyond hope.

To these maladies alone I have earnestly devoted the best years of my life. Physicians having shown cases to treat are cordially invited to consult with me. I make no charge for such consultation except where a case is beyond hope. No case treated by correspondence and no C. O. D. schemes.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT.
Come early as persons are always crowded.

A friendly call may save you future suffering; if you have made life a hell for thousands who had been pronounced beyond hope. No case treated by correspondence and no C. O. D. schemes.

REV. J. W. MILLER PREACHES
TO SENIORS OF HIGH SCHOOLPastor Gives Baccalaureate Address on the Subject, "Ambition For the Common Service."

Every available space was filled at Grace M. E. church Sunday morning on the occasion of the baccalaureate sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Miller, to the members of the senior class of the high school.
The church was appropriately decorated with spring flowers and the senior chorus gave the anthem entitled "Whatsoever Things Are True," and the high school chorus gave "Divine Redeemer" by Gounod.

The true ground for national pride is not the number of battleships or the strength of standing army but in the efficiency of the system for the mental and moral training of the youth of the land. Not trained gunners but trained thinkers not in forts and disappearing batteries but in institutions for the development of the manhood of the nation is its defense. The American public school system is doing this for this nation. It is one of the best in the world. So far as I have investigated I like our schools better than any other. Our schools are planned for all the people. Every boy and girl has the free privilege of an education in this country. The high school is the people's college.
The product of the high school rather than the university or the special colleges represent our educational system as a nation. When strangers visit us and investigate our educational plant we must point to you young men and women as the best samples of what we are doing along educational lines. I wish we had laws that would protect our youth from the industrial system until they had a chance at least to finish the high school course. From our high schools are to come the leaders of the future. We must look to you for the uncommon service that is to be rendered. So I come to you with the subject, "Ambition for Uncommon Service."

There is a remarkable story in New Testament history of ambition for uncommon service. Christ was approaching Jerusalem for the last time. It was only one week until Calvary. One day he was approached by Salome and her two sons, James and John, two of Christ's disciples. The mother made the request for her sons that one be permitted to sit on His right and the other on His left hand in His kingdom. It was a peculiar request.
Christ listened to this request, courteously. He did not rebuke the mother. He rather turned to her sons and asked them if they were able to drink of the cup that He should should drink and be baptized with the baptism that he must be baptized with and they said "we are able."
They proved that they were worthy of the positions that they desired.
Salome was not a worldly woman.
She did not make a worldly request.
She was one of the women who ministered unto Christ during His life on earth. She was at His cross, at His tomb and proved herself one of His true followers. She was not criticized by Christ and does not deserve criticism at our hands. The incident furnishes us some new lessons.

What a fine example here to parents to show ambition for the success of their children. Has ambition on the part of parents disappeared?
Is there that interest today on the part of parents for in what the boy or girl is planning for the future?
There should be. If there is not more and deeper interest by parents than teachers for the children of our schools, then something is radically wrong. You parents are expected to have the greater interest because of your relation to your children. You have your own experience to guide you. You can realize the tragedy of your mistakes in youth. Many parents now know what their sons and daughters do not realize what a tremendous handicap they have had by neglecting right training and education in early life. Parents how about about ambition for your child?

Young men and women without ambition you will never perform the uncommon things. There are plenty to do the common things, but few who will make preparation for the larger things of life. Yet it is as easy to big things as small when you know how. But the big things are impossible without training. A Chicago merchant said to his son,
"There is room at the top but the elevator is not running." So if you reach the top you will have to climb there on your own feet.

There are some essential qualities in the program of the uncommon service. First of all are the high ideals. Man is a long way from himself. He must realize himself by following the noble ideals. It is the glory of human life that it comes into the world not fully developed but starts with the germs of greatness and must develop them as it climbs.
The saddest thing in the world is not physical death but death of ideals.

You will need great courage to follow your ideals. There are many remarkable examples of the courage to follow high ideals. Cyrus W.
Field was a wealthy man and had retired when he felt called to promote the laying of an electric cable across the Atlantic ocean. They had to build through the forests of Newfoundland 1,000 miles of telegraph lines. He crossed the ocean 50 times during the thirteen years before victory came. Five attempts were failures.
Four companies were organized one after the other having given it up.
Yet at last he succeeded and those cables laid in 1856 are still representing the heroic courage of Field.
Thus it is of every great enterprise.
The big things have not all been done. There is a fine chance yet.

You will need great courage to carry out your ideals. Along with these other qualities is the one that crosses them all and gives the stamp of honor of all achievements, it is integrity. Here is the real foundation of the business world. But for integrity the business of this country that seems so solid would be nothing but a paper house. Integrity commands the highest salaries. It is in great demand.

It is just as a great need in the political world. In the very halls of legislature where we might expect honor and manhood there we have to fight our hardest for truth and right. You may be rich some day.
You are entitled to great wealth provided you get it honestly. But if there is a dirty dollar among all your millions you have not succeeded. If the blood of poor men, widows and orphans is on your bank account you have failed. There is coming a time when you will be asked, How did you get that fortune? Did others have a shorter loaf and a meager home because of your wealth, then all your millions will not save you from the curse.

It is hard to do the uncommon things says some one. Yes, that is why I like it. I never did enjoy a one sided game. It thrills me to see trained athletes come down the home stretch in the quarter mile every muscle and nerve at highest tension, neck and neck they race for the goal. There is glory in victory then. Now is the time to make the training for that home stretch part of the race. President Jordan of Leland Stanford University has well spoken the final word that I bring to you.

So live that your after self—the man you ought to be—may in this time be possible and actual. Far away the thirties and forties of 20th century, he is waiting his turn. His body, his brain, his soul are in your boyish hands. He cannot help himself. What will you leave for him?
Will it be a brain unspoiled by lust or dissipation, a mind trained to think and act, a nervous system true as a dial in its response to the truth about you? Will you, boy of the 20th century let him come as a man among men in his time or will you throw away his inheritance before he has had the chance to touch it?
Will you let him come, taking your place, gaining through your experiences, hallowed through your joys, building on them his own, or will fling his hope away, wanton like that the man you might have been shall never be.

Mrs. A. W. Baldwin and her daughter, Mrs. Mary B. Curtis, who has

Chautauqua Envelopes Have Arrived

The advertising committee of the chautauqua was surprised to find the chautauqua envelopes which were due here the first of this month and which were lost in transit arrived today. They are being distributed as rapidly as possible in order that they can be used for boosting this year's chautauqua.

They sent five thousand more than were ordered and if there is any business houses or individuals who can use any number of them from twenty-five to a thousand or more they can be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office. They are a neat and attractive envelope and should prove a successful method for advertising our educational festival throughout this state and the adjoining states.

The following firms have joined in the movement to help advertise the chautauqua and others should be willing to take the remainder of the extra number which were ordered. The total order called for seventy thousand which when distributed will go in a great number of homes of the state outside of Jacksonville stating the facts about this year's chautauqua.

Grand Opera House

For Monday the management takes pleasure in announcing a vaudeville and moving picture program of special merit.

Ned Melroy, eccentric comedian, will contribute a large measure of fun and hilarity to the evening's entertainment. Mr. Melroy is appearing in some of the best of the vaudeville houses and is accounted a high class head liner.

The Picture Program

The splendid picture program includes the following.

Margarita and the Mission Funds

A gripping tale of Old California. Selig

Dangers of the Street

A descriptive film which will teach you how to guard against street accidents. Better see this; it may save your life. Edison.

Mr. Bolter's Niece

Vitagraph comedy with Mr. John Bunny and Miss Flora Finch. Enough

The Unknown

An Essamay dramatic masterpiece that will compel attention.

The Cowboy and the Baby

Pathe western comedy. If Pathe can't make you laugh you'd better consult a doctor.

Special Notice to Patrons

We have installed fourteen sixteen inch, six blade fans in this theatre and there are over twenty exits to the house which will be kept constantly open during the summer weather. A little later a large exhaust fan will be placed in the dome of the ceiling and the entire arrangements will be such that patrons of the Grand will be cooler and more comfortable in this theater than they possibly could out of doors. Nothing is too good for our patrons in equipment and nothing is too good for them in the entertainment line and already we have planned some very special amusement bargains. Every vaudeville act will be carefully censored and nothing which can be in any way termed objectionable or suggestive will be permitted.

FROM MR. AND MRS. MCCARTHY

Dear Journal:

We want to inform our friends of our camping place so that they may call on us when they have no other place to visit, and talk over old times, break a corn pone with us, renew old associations and friendships.

As far back as last fall some of the good ladies of Litterberry invited us to cast our lot with them in their beautiful little city where peace and plenty reign twelve months in a year. We will admit that we did not take the invitation very seriously at the time, but when we received a kind, generous letter last winter while sojourning in the southland, from Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Crum stating that they had our cottage worked over, newly painted, papered and fixed in apple pie order, we began to think of the many fine people who live in and around Litter-berry and soon decided that we could not find a better neighborhood
if we should look all over the state.
You may accuse us of being hard to please, but when you remember that we have lived in Crackers Bend for 10 these many years, and knew those people were the best neighbors in the world, it certainly looked to us like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire any way we made the leap. Therefore we began to count the good people we knew in Litterberry and neighborhood: The Crums, the Hendersons, the Berry's, the Murrys, the Litters, the Youngs, the Petishes, the Dinwiddies and a host of others as good, we decided to locate here and do our best to retain the good will of these kind hearted people who have shown by their actions that they are deeply interested in our welfare. So we came up to cast our lot with these good people who have been kind enough to take us for better or for worse.

We were surprised to find conditions much superior to what we expected; the cottage being one of the best in town, with an ample garden already planted with all kinds of vegetables, the yard having apples, peaches, cherries and plums in great plenty. The first evening we arrived we were tired and Mrs. McCarthy did not feel like cooking so we went over to a well known boarding house for our supper and breakfast also ordered dinner, for we were so royally entertained by these people and given such elaborate meals that we were sorry to leave them, but about the middle of the morning things became different, a loaf of white bread, a jar of fresh milk and a dish of fine butter came in from the Bend; a few minutes later Mr. S.
H. Crum came in with a basket laden with good things to eat and at the top Mrs. Crum had placed one of the finest strawberry short cakes we ever saw or ate, also a pot of cream to go with it. Now we hurried over to the boarding house to countermand our order for dinner, we also thought we had better settle for what we had got, but when we offered to pay, the lady refused to take anything, saying "We know how to treat neighbors." Now what do you know about such people?
Later, this same lady brought over to us a half dozen fresh buns.

In the last six months we have been through ten states and found fine hospitable people where ever we went but the Litterberry people are ahead of any people we have found in our rambles and this goes to prove that one need not leave old Morgan county to find good people or procure a living that is good enough for a king.

With best wishes and etc.,
D. K. and Mrs. McCarthy.

NEXT CONVENTION TO BE AT LA SALLE

ASSISTANT POSTMASTERS HAVE ONE DAY MEETING.

Sessions of Fifth Annual Gathering Held At Dunlap Hotel—Election of Officers Held and Other Business Transaction.

La Salle was voted as the next meeting place at the fifth annual gathering of the Illinois Association of Assistant Postmasters, which was held Monday at the Dunlap hotel.
There were forty delegates in attendance and considerable routine business was transacted including an election of officers. At the close of the convention the delegates were given a treat of seeing Jacksonville via automobile.

The election of officers follows:
President—E. O. Andrews of Belvidere (re-elected.)

First vice-president—C. E. Redenberg, East St. Louis.

Second vice-president—John M.
Milburn, Streator.

Third vice-president—C. E.
Thompson, Canton.

Secretary and treasurer—Ruth E.
Courtright, Normal, (re-elected.)

Executive committee—J. W. Harney, Jacksonville; C. H. Stuttle, Streator; F. J. Pierard, La Salle; Frances Small, Lincoln; John P.
Bradford, Pontiac.

The meeting was called to order by President Andrews at 11 o'clock who was heard in a brief talk. The address of welcome was by Mayor George W. Davis, and the response was by Robert Campbell of Peoria.

E. O. ANDREWS,
Re-elected President of the Association of Assistant Postmasters.

Upon roll call forty responded and a number of letters were read by those who were not able to attend. In the reports read President E. O. Andrews called attention to the fact that there were 140 entitled to membership in the association and only a little more than half that number belonged. He thought there ought to be a special effort made to increase the membership.

Postmaster J. J. Reeve was heard in a short address. He referred to the important duties of the assistant postmasters. He said they ought to be men familiar with every detail of the post office service, be able to take up any clerk's work and do it efficiently, he should also know the ability of every clerk.

Before adjournment was taken for dinner, the following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—William H. Moore, Bloomington; J. E. Derfinger, Bushnell; C. F. Redenberg, East St.
Louis.

Auditing committee—Robert L.
Lacey of Mt. Vernon; F. M. Brockway of Watseka; O. E. Woodling, Monticello.

Afternoon Session.

W. O. Baumgartner, postoffice inspector spoke briefly and also conducted a question box which proved both interesting and instructive, many taking advantage of the opportunity to ask questions pertaining to postoffice rules and regulations. Miss Ruth E. Courtright of Normal read a timely paper on "Parcel Post" and Miss Frances Small gave a paper on "Efficiency."
Several reports were read at the afternoon session and the auditing committee gave figures to show that the organization had a balance in the treasury of $116, after paying out $343.

During the sessions Mrs. Thomas Harber sang a solo and after the program was concluded the delegates were given an automobile ride over the city, which they greatly enjoyed. The trip was made possible through several citizens who kindly gave the use of their cars. Much of the success of the meeting was due to the efforts of J. W. Harney, chairman of the executive committee.

La Salle was chosen as the next meeting place without opposition.
Delegates to the national convention in Sioux City, Iowa, September 19-20 were E. O. Andrews, Belvidere; Robt. L. Lacey, Mt. Vernon;
F. J. Pierard, La Salle.

POLL TAX IS DUE.
All citizens liable to the poll tax are hereby notified that the same is due and payable now. You will

CLASS DAY EXERCISES AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Splendid Program Arranged By Seniors—Students Enjoy Picnic at Nichols Park—Commencement Program—Exhibition of Manual and Domestic Arts.

The class day exercises of the high school will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the high school. The seniors expect to present something of interest, both to the student body and friends of the school. The public is cordially invited to be present.

The following is the program: Prophet—Homer Furr. Historian—Norma Perbix. Poet—Weir Wood. Class song—Doreen Spears. Class will—Ruth Brittenham. Presentation of class trophy to juniors—Dorothy Camp. Response for juniors—Clara Lane.

Presentation of souvenirs to members of class. Following the exercises the business session of the alumni association will be held and it is very desirable that a goodly number of the former students be present at this meeting.

Picnic at Nichols Park. The annual outing at Nichols park by the high school students took place Monday. The boys and girls went out in the morning shortly before noon, and a splendid dinner was served, each taking a well filled basket. The various attractions of the park were on the program of entertainment and dancing was also enjoyed at the pavilion.

Manual and Domestic Exhibits. The manual training and domestic science exhibits of the school will be seen today and Wednesday. This is the 10th anniversary of these departments of the school. Those in charge expect to have on exhibition work done in each of the ten years, and no little pains is being taken to have one of the finest displays in the history of the institution. The exhibit will continue through this evening and no doubt many who can not go during the day will be glad that they can have the opportunity of seeing the work of the students during the evening hours.

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS LAYING OF CORNER STONE

A large number of Jacksonville Catholics, headed by Knights of Columbus, went to Waverly Sunday morning in a special train via the Burlington to attend the cornerstone laying at the new St. Sebastian church, which was in charge of Very Rev. Father Timothy Hickey, vicar general of this diocese. The program as printed in Sunday's Journal was carried out.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Drama League will give a theatre supper in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Coburn after the performance of Iphigenia Wednesday evening at the Peacock Inn. The guest list is limited to members of the Jacksonville center and out of town guests. The league considers itself fortunate in having secured Mr. Coburn to address them at this time on "Possibilities of Drama League Work from the Viewpoint of an actor." All members who desire to attend are requested to notify the committee by noon today.

The marriage of Miss Ida Braun and Mr. George C. Guthrie will take place June 4 at 11:30 a. m. at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Frances Braun on Caldwell street.

Miss Mayne Kennedy and Miss Beatrice Robertson, entertained the members of the first year academy class of the Woman's college at the home of the former, 1336 West Lafayette avenue Monday afternoon. The house was decorated in lavender and gold the class colors. The colors were carried out in the refreshments served. In the prize contest first honors were won by Miss Wright. The affair was delightful in every way. Miss Wright, Miss Wakely and Miss Stevenson, teachers at the school were the chaperons.

Miss Leola Spencer, daughter of William S. Spencer of South Clay avenue gave a party on the occasion of her twelfth birthday Monday afternoon. A number of her school friends were present to enjoy the delicious refreshments and help play the games that composed the entertainment of the afternoon. Those present were: Myra Alberta Whitlock, Dorothy Mullen, Dorothy Detters, Pearl Moxon, Beulah Slater, Lena Mitchell, Hazel Bradley, Helen Kelley, Julia Williamson, Catherine Gustavsen, Jessie Vetterfield, Lillian Ingram, Maude and Josephine Henry, Carl Gause, Leola and Elizabeth Spencer.

A musical entertainment was given in the parlors of Northminster church Monday evening by the Violet Class, taught by Mrs. Joshua Vasconcellos. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The proceeds of the evening will go to defray the class' pledge for the year. Among the musical and literary numbers were readings by Misses Caroline Smith, Vivian Vieira, Kate Clarkson and Mrs. Clarkson; vocal solos by Misses Julia Mendonsa and Clara Ranson; quartet selections by Messrs Marks, Bracewell, Nunes and Marks and songs by Misses Esther Spoons and Rinda Vieira.

THE TEMPERATURES.

The temperatures for Monday, according to G. H. Hall, weather observer at Alexanders, were: maximum 69, minimum 56. A rainfall of .42 inches was recorded.

MEMORIAL SERVICES AT NORTHMINSTER CHURCH

The Rev. W. E. Spoons Gives Annual Address to G. A. R. and Woman's Relief Corps.

An inspiring and patriotic address was heard Sunday morning by the men of the G. A. R. and the ladies of the Relief Corps on the occasion of the annual Sunday memorial service preceding Memorial Day. The Rev. W. E. Spoons arose at 11 o'clock to address about seventy of the old soldiers and thirty ladies of the W. R. C. together with an audience which filled Northminster church to its capacity. The two orders had met at the G. A. R. hall on West Morgan street and marched in a body to the church which in honor of the occasion had been decorated with flags.

"Though the son of a confederate officer I honor you and shall hold you in the greatest esteem as long as memory shall last," said the Rev. Spoons in opening his address. He took his text from II Timothy, 3, in which the apostle urges Christians "to endure hardness as good soldiers. The minister compared the soldier who fights for his country to the Christian soldier; the war on the battlefield to spiritual warfare.

"The memorial service this morning reminds us of Memorial Day which we celebrate Friday. It brings to mind the day set apart as a tribute to the high and holy patriotism with which you and your comrades fought for your country. It brings to mind the sacred cause in which you were engaged, the high ideals for which you risked your life." The history of Memorial Day was touched upon by the speaker, a day known first as Decoration Day, a term which did not express the true meaning of the occasion.

"There are others deserving of honor besides the boys in blue at this time. It is not the boys in grey, though you have long since forgiven them and honor them for the fight they fought. It is the women who suffered oftentimes more than their husbands, sons and sweethearts on the battlefield. I wish we knew where they have been buried so that we could decorate their graves also. I hope the time may come when they will be recognized fully for their lives of sacrifice and fortitude, on this day of memorial for our country's heroes."

The minister pointed out that the work of the veterans would have been vain had it not been for the struggles of the Christian soldiers who have succeeded them. Although honored none the less for their continued fighting, the example of these old soldiers is needed now as an example in the constant spiritual warfare of today. The old soldiers must not be content with their honorable record of the past but must put on the gospel armor for the battles of the war with evil. They must be warriors who are in the service from their own free choice. They must be volunteers as they were volunteers in the battles for the union. Each one must assume all parts of the armor of righteousness, the sword of the spirit, the shield of faith, the helmet of salvation and the breast plate of righteousness. Each must stand with his loins girded about with truth. All should enlist under the Captain who is so preeminently fitted to be a commander, Christ Jesus.

"Can I wish for you a greater thing than this? That when you have finished your course here and go before your Maker you can answer 'here am I,' and go before the throne with conscience clear and heart untroubled, that you shall receive your eternal reward and that your memory shall last as long as time shall last."

The service was closed by singing America. The veterans present were deeply impressed, cheering the speaker several times in the course of his address. By special request, the audience remained standing while the men of the G. A. R. and the ladies of the W. R. C. filed out from the seats which had been reserved for them and marched from the church.

You surely can afford it now—the cream of our trimmed hat stock at 25 to 33 1-3 per cent reduction. Floreth Company.

URANIA LODGE PASSES FOUR HUNDRED MARK

Odd Fellows Initiate Thirteen Candidates at Jubilee Meeting Last Night—New Regalia Used.

Members of Urania lodge No. 243 initiated thirteen candidates last night, which brings the total membership of the lodge up to 412. For this reason the meeting was a most happy one and visitors were present from Murrayville, Concord, Chapin, Arcadia, Modesto, Woodson, Franklin, Waverly, in all over 300. In the initiation of the candidates the new paraphernalia, recently purchased by the lodge was used for the first time.

A pleasing part of the evening's program was the presentation to the lodge an Odd Fellows apron by Felix E. Farrell. This apron was worn by James E. Dunlap, who had inscribed his name on the garment. Mr. Dunlap wore this apron at the time the lodge was instituted Oct. 7, 1857, he being one of the charter members. The presentation speech was made by Carl Webber.

Following the work refreshments were served and the committees in charge of the evening were A. W. Baldwin, T. A. Ebrey and E. M. Vasconcellos.

TENT SHOW OPENS ENGAGEMENT

The Chase-Lister theater company opened a week's engagement on the Billy Sunday lot on East Court street Monday evening, presenting the four act western drama, "The Last Roundup." The play was witnessed by a large audience and was presented in an excellent manner. The play for tonight is a comedy entitled, "Because She Loved Him So."

One of the members of the company is W. E. Ansley, of Hugo, Okla. about three feet tall. He has been with the company four years and although he is small in stature he is 23 years of age, and is rated as one of the best actors of the troupe.

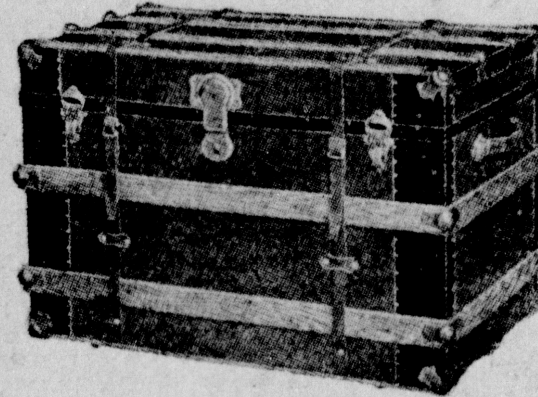

Dr. J. F. Meyers has been called out of the city on account of the illness of his mother.

RESPONDED TO CALL.

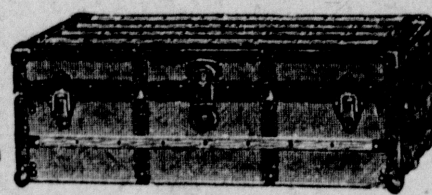

The fire department responded to a call Monday night at the Home Panatorium, where some gasoline caught on fire. There was no damage.
